Reynoldstown Is Again Winner of Grand National

Major Noel Furlong's Nine-year-old Passes Post Twenty Lengths Ahead of Ego to Win English Classic for Second Consecutive Year; Bachelor Prince Is Third on Wet Course; Favorite Falls at First Jump

Canadian Press

Aintree, Liverpool, Eng., March 27.—A great nine-year-old jumper, Major Noel Furlong's Reynoldstown, today won the Grand National Steeplechase for the second successive year, a feat which has been accomplished only twice before.

Reynoldstown romped home to an easy victory, twenty lengths ahead of the second-place Ego, owned by Sir David Llewellyn. Third in the race, run over thirty heart-breaking jumps before a crowd of more than 200,000, was James V. Rank's Bachelor Prince. Six lengths separated Ego and Bachelor Prince at the finish.

ONLY TEN FINISHED

A field of thirty-five horses lined up for the ninety-eighth running of the Grand National, but only ten finished. Golden Miller, the favorite for the second year in a row, fell after the first jump. The Miller, 1934 victor, got up and continued, but did not finish the race. The second choice in the betting Mrs. Violet Mundy's avenger, fell on the second time around the course, breaking his neck.

Reynoldstown, a brown gelding by Mr. Prince, out of Fromage, was quoted at odds of 10 to 1 at post time. Odds on Golden Miller were 2 to 1 when the race started. F. T. Walsby rode Major Furlong's jumper.

Canadian Press

Toronto, March 27.—Lone Canadian to hold a ticket on Reynoldstown in the Irish Hospital Sweepstakes is A. L. Coon, salesman for a Toronto department store. He is the "Just Me," whose luck was in when ticket QA 83992 was pulled from the lottery drum at Dublin.

Mr. Coon was traveling in eastern Ontario today, and had given no indication of how he planned to use the $150,000 which goes to the holder of a ticket on the Grand National winner.

A married man, he is expected back at his Toronto home tomorrow, his father said.

GUESTS FLEE AS HOTEL BURNS

Peterborough, Ont., March 27 (Canadian Press).—A. L. Coon of Toronto, only Canadian holder of an Irish Sweepstakes ticket on the Grand National winner, Reynoldstown, was believed to have left here Wednesday for New York to accept an offer of $5,000 for a half share in the ticket. NEW TRIAL MOVE

Associated Press
Trenton, N.J., March 27.—C. Lloyd Fisher, chief counsel for Bruno Richard Hauptmann, said today he had sufficient evidence to ask for a new trial in the event of failure of the court of pardons to commute Hauptmann's death sentence to life imprisonment.

"Heeks with unfairness, passion and prejudice."
The Governor said also he is more "firmly convinced than ever that Hauptmann was not given a trial in line with what we consider to be American standards of justice." (Turn to Page 2, Col. 1)

NEW CLASHES AT MONGOLIA LINE

Soviet Press Says Japanese and Manchukuan Forces Concentrating After Series of Fights

Associated Press

Moscow, March 27.—A concentration of Japanese and Manchukuan forces on the Far Eastern frontier was reported by Soviet press today after new fighting on the Russo-Manchukuan border had spread to the boundary of Outer Mongolia.

brought into play in a series of clashes which started Wednesday.
Soviet Press advised that Japanese and Manchukuan forces were concentrating along the frontier near Norin Lake, with the evident purpose of renewing their alleged attempt to capture a Mongolian frontier post, from which they had been forced back yesterday.
At dawn yesterday the Japanese and Manchukuan were said to have occupied the border position after crossing the Honing River. They remained until after dark when they were driven back. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 5)

FIVE-LEGGED LAMB IS SAANICH FREAK

Here is what is believed to be the most extraordinary freak of nature to have ever been seen on the island—a five-legged lamb with the extra leg growing out of the back of its neck. The photograph was taken out at the Derringer farm in Saanichton where the lamb was born at the beginning of the week. Except for this extra leg which flops around very much like a huge misplaced ear, the lamb appears to be normal, feeding and scampering around like many others on this farm. The growth at the back of its neck is definitely a leg, as it has a bone which can be felt and which is jointed at the approximate places where the knee and hoof would be in an ordinary limb. The extra leg has no hoof but it is colored in the same manner as the other legs, becoming darker toward the end. The mother of the leg appears to have as connection with the neck and seems to be just held on by skin as there does not seem to be any muscle in the extra limb. The freak lamb is a male, one of twins. The extra leg has probably saved his life because, instead of going to the butcher, Robert Derringer says they intend to save him and put him on exhibition at the coming sheep fair at Saanichton.

House Endorses Health Measure 28 Votes to 10

Five Liberals Vote Against Weir Insurance Bill, and Six C.C.F. Vote for It on Second Reading; Many Amendments Forecast When Bill Goes Into Committee Stage

With five Liberals bolting from the government but six C.C.F. votes making up the deficiency, Hon. G. M. Weir's health insurance bill got second reading at 11.15 o'clock yesterday evening in the Legislature on a 28-10 division.

The vote brought to an end twelve solid hours of debate over a period of four days during which twenty-four members expressed their opinions. The revolt in Liberal ranks was forecast during the debate, which also revealed that others will vote against the measure on third reading unless drastic amendments are made in committee. Those who opposed it at the first stage were S. S. McKen, Dr. J. J. Gillis, Dr. W. H. Sutherland, D. W. Strachan and L. A. Hanna. They joined with the independent members against the combined government and C.C.F. vote.

Afternoon and night sessions of the House were devoted yesterday almost entirely to the health bill debate which was concluded by Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Mines and Labor.

ALL BEHIND PRINCIPLE
Mr. Pearson remarked how solid the members of the House were in their support of the bill. (Turn to Page 2, Col. 6)

Governor in Tilt Over Hauptmann

Governor Hoffman's statement was in reply to remarks by Prosecutor Anthony M. Hauck of Hunterdon County, who criticized the Governor's activities in the Hauptmann case. Hauck said he was "getting sick and tired" of the Governor's utterances and moves, and suggested a legislative inquiry was in order.

WOULD WELCOME INQUIRY

The Governor said: "I am somewhat amazed and amused at the statements attributed to Prosecutor Hauck, particularly his expression that I am trying to make a 'laughing stock' of the courts. As to the legislative investigation—I would sincerely welcome it. As a matter of fact, I think it would be a very healthy thing to have the Legislature authorize an investigation of the activities of the Governor, the Attorney-General, the superintendent of state police, the prosecutor of Hunterdon County and any representative of their department."

beautiful views of the volcano, the operator of the other plane said. "He himself was happy over the trip to Central America and said he was looking forward to a good time."

All except Igler died instantly in the crash, or were trapped and burned to death.

kind of footing he wanted. The race was run in dull weather, with a full sun trying to peer through the clouds and dispel the gloom.

FAIRLY SLOW RACE

The time was 9:37, comparatively slow compared with the 9:31 made by Reynoldstown a year ago. Golden Miller set the course record in 1934 at 9:20.

CROWN PRINCE FOURTH

Fourth to finish the gruelling course was R. Strutt's Crown Prince, ridden by Strutt and carrying low weight of 147 pounds. Lieut.-Col. W. E. Peel's Inverness, carrying 148 pounds, was fifth. Mrs. J. de Selincourt's Provocative, six and a half, was sixth. The States-owned Castle Irwell seventh. Bostock rode Castle Irwell himself. Provocative carried 149 pounds and Castle Irwell 148.

WINNER CARRIED 170 POUNDS

The winner was handicapped at 170 pounds, only five pounds less than Golden Miller, the top weight. Ego, ridden by Llewellyn, carried the minimum 147-pound impost, and Bachelor Prince, ridden by Pawcus 149. Ego started at odds of 60 to 1 and Bachelor Prince at 30 to 1.

DAY JONES, AN OUTSIDER OWNED

and ridden by Hon. Anthony Midland, showed the way over Aintree's treacherous jumps until just before the final obstacle. Then he swerved and ran off the course when his reins broke, leaving Reynoldstown, which had run up last, all alone to win as he pleased.

GOLDEN MILLER FALLS

Spectators gasped when Golden Miller fell at the first fence. The Miller, ridden by E. Williams, got up and continued two fences behind the field.

Among early fallers were Lazy Boots, Brienze and Castle View.

At Becher's Brook on the first time around Killoe led, with Wavy Jones second, but Midland's chestnut five-year-old took the lead at Anchor's Bridge, two-thirds of the way around followed by Double Crossed.

Golden Miller pulled up while Delaigle, Rod and Gun, Royal Ramon, Blase, Ervaton Mon and Golden all fell.

Leading as the field completed the first circuit of the course was Davy Jones, followed by Double Crossed, Avenger, Killoe, Inverness, Keen Blade and Reynoldstown.

DAVY JONES IN LEAD

As they reached Becher's Brook—a five-foot high jump with a brook five and one-half feet wide beyond it—Davy Jones still led. Behind were Reynoldstown and Double Crossed. At the Canal Turn Davy Jones was five lengths ahead.

Avenger fell and broke his neck, dying of his injury.

One mile from home in the chase of four miles and 856 yards Davy Jones still led, with Reynoldstown on his heels, and Keen Blade following. Five furlongs from the finish Midland's horse still was in front of Reynoldstown, but just before the last fence his reins broke and Davy Jones ran out of the course. This put Reynoldstown in front, and he drew away from Ego and Bachelor Prince to win amidst tremendous cheers.

Other finishers were, in order, Crown Prince, Inverness, Provocative, Castle Irwell, Double Crossed, Moorland View and Comedian.

JOCKEY PRAISES HORSE

Aintree, Liverpool, March 27 (Associated Press).—Fluke Walwyn, the amateur jockey who rode Reynoldstown to his second victory in a row in the Grand National Steeplechase today, gave all the credit to his mount.

BETTER RADIO STATION PLAN

Mr. Strachan said it was difficult to make the farm pay, because it was run on government "red tape lines." He had had to sign his name thirty-two times to get a few toothpicks.

INDUSTRIAL HOME

Sixteen of the eighteen recommendations made by the inquiry commission on the Boys' Industrial Home at Coquitlam had been carried out, Dr. Weir said, answering a suggestion by Mr. Pooley that conditions there were unsatisfactory. These included the removal of the superintendent and changes in the staff.

Before the reorganization there were only twenty-three boys in the place because magistrates preferred to send boys to jail in the belief that brutality prevailed at the industrial home. The population had now gone up to ninety-eight. Magistrates were willing again to commit first offenders to the care of the institution, said Dr. Weir.

RETIRING ALLOWANCE

George M. Murray, Liberal, Lillooet, attacked as excessive the vote of $4,200 a year, as a retiring allowance for F. A. Pauline, former agent-general in London. He would reduce it to $50 a month and give the rest to a group of aged prospectors in the Cariboo and Lillooet districts.

Harold Winch, C.C.F., Vancouver East, demanded the vote of $5,903.26 for the Department of Industries be wiped out and the work done by a part-time stenographer as it was handled previously. Mr. Hart declared the officials were busy now. Six loan guarantees had been made last year and the collection of outstanding loans involved considerable work.

Mrs. D. G. Steves, C.C.F., North Vancouver, criticized a loan guarantee of $20,000 to the White Pine Lumber Company of Nakusp when a neighboring company could not get a loan and found it hard to get along in competition with the firm financed by the government. Mr. Hart replied that the White Pine Company had suffered from flood damage and very careful investigation had been made before the guarantee was given. As a result of the government helping it to operate, the company had been able to meet its loan, protecting the government against loss. Mrs. Steves said people of the interior suspected the White Pine Company was getting preferential treatment because its manager was a member of the House. She did not state his name.

Little Extension Of Reich Offer

DISTURBED BY STATEMENTS

Hitler's ambassador at large was understood to be perturbed by some statements of British officials. A re-affirmation of Britain's obligations under the Locarno pact, which was acclaimed generally by the British as the greatest of his career.

German quarters said Hitler's counter-proposals to the Locarno powers consisted of "a precise and concrete elaboration of Hitler's original offer of March 7, the date that he demilitarized the Rhineland."

FRENCH OPINION

Paris, March 27 (Canadian Press from Havas).—British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden's speech in the British House of Commons showed he is closer to the French point of view than his fellow ministers or the British public generally, newspapers here agreed today.

"Great Britain will honor its word given to France and Belgium," Le Matin declared.

"Eden affirmed this in his energetic, illuminating speech in the most affirmative and categorical manner, which can leave in Paris and Berlin no doubt of the fidelity of Britain to its engagements," the paper affirmed.

London, March 27 (Canadian Press from Havas).—Havas learned tonight from "high British sources" that Great Britain no longer regards itself as a guarantor of Germany's western frontier against French or Belgian attack.

Havas obtained this information after Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden had talked with Joachim von Ribbentrop, Chancellor Hitler's ambassador-at-large, boarded a plane for Essen for a conference with his chief. It was reported.

The British cabinet, Havas learned, will meet Monday to set a date for opening of consultations among the French, Belgian and British general staffs.

Franco-Soviet Pact in Force

Canadian Press from Havas Paris, March 27.—The Franco-Soviet mutual assistance pact formally went into effect today when ratifications were exchanged by Soviet Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinov and Foreign Minister Flaminio.

Ratification of this treaty by the French Chamber of Deputies and its expected approval by the Senate was the reason given by Chancellor Hitler on March 7 for re-occupying the Rhineland.

M. Flaminio returned from his country home today to meet Commissar Litvinov.

TORONTO MAN WINS SWEEP

Coon, a brother of Mrs. J. J. Dorris of Peterborough, came here Tuesday from Toronto and it was here he heard of his good luck in holding a ticket on Reynoldstown.

TWO WON $50,000 EACH

Aintree, Liverpool, Eng., March 27.—A Canadian giving the nom de plume "Just Me" held an Irish sweepstakes ticket on Reynoldstown, winner today of the Grand National Steeplechase.

Two Canadians held tickets on Bachelor Prince, the third to finish, thereby winning about $50,000 apiece. They were "Sagamo" holding ticket RT 5626 and "Dee Bee" holding ticket RT 77025.

No Canadians held tickets on Ego. Thirty other Canadians had tickets on horses. Their winnings amounted to about $3,500 apiece, regardless of whether the horses started in the race or not.

Canadian lottery legislation caused Sweep authorities to withhold the names of Canadians who drew tickets on horses.

SYNDICATE GETS $36 EACH

Calgary, March 27.—Lady Luck smiled on 100 Calgary railway car shop workers today though it was not a great big smile. Each was made $36 richer by the syndicate ticket they held in the Irish Hospitals Sweepstakes on the Grand National.

W. K. Wilson, Canadian Pacific Railway shop employee, organized the syndicate which held a ticket on Sir Ernest Will's "Blaze," in the big race, and will collect $3,600 for a starter. Each member of the syndicate contributed one dollar and four books of tickets were purchased. A New York syndicate offered the local men $2,500 for a half share in the ticket, but they decided to "take a chance" and refused to sell.

First reports, two days ago, were that the syndicate held a ticket, under the nom de plume of "Just Me," on Reynoldstown, the winner, but this was sorrowfully denied by the workers today.

U.S. WINNINGS
New York, March 27.—Citizens of the United States who bought tickets in the Irish Hospitals Sweepstakes won a total of approximately $2,800,000 when the Grand National Steeplechase was run at Aintree, Liverpool, Eng., today.

Americans held five tickets on Reynoldstown, the winning horse; four on Ego, second, and five on Bachelor Prince, third.

Each ticket on Reynoldstown pays $150,000; each on Ego pays $75,000; and each on Bachelor Prince pays $50,000.

The winners, together with the money distributed on horses which did not run or finish "out of the money" and paid out as residual and consolation prizes, brings the total coming to the United States.

The sweepstakes organization never announced the total amount of money paid into the fund from any one country, but the United States percentage of wins in the draw was about forty-four, indicating that probably nearly half the money paid into the big lottery went from the United States.

The total prize fund this year was $8,265,770.

The tickets on Reynoldstown were held by:

"The 23 Kid," Matron Navigation;

Co., Wilmington, Calif.; "Tiller," New York; "Black Cat," Salem, Mass.; "Red and Joe," Lynn, Mass., and "The Happy Family," Albany, N.Y.

Each of these tickets on Reynoldstown will pay $150,000.

Four tickets were held in the United States on Ego, the horse which ran second, and each of these tickets will pay $75,000—a total of $300,000 for the four.

They were held by: Gimpel Sandberg, Brooklyn; J. K. Hammond, Detroit, Mich.; Mary Love, Bethlehem, Pa.; and "Need It," Reading, Pa.

Tickets on Bachelor Prince, the third horse, each paying $50,000, are held by five Americans—who thereby win a total of $250,000.

TWO GIRLS WIN

Lynn, Mass., March 27 (Associated Press).—Two Lynn telephone operators today received the news they were jointly $150,000 richer as the result of the Grand National Steeplechase. They did not catch their breath in matrimony or real estate.

The Misses Rose Langelier and Reva Shontell curled up on a divan, borrowed cigarettes from a reporter and said they would go back to work Monday. They did not know what they would do with the money, but they were emphatic that men, mansions and machines were "out."

Equality Is Hitler's Topic

"There can no longer be victors and vanquished," he declared, and his listeners cheered enthusiastically. "There can no longer be honored and dishonored."

Hitler stressed that the Third Reich was much more a genuine democracy than the Weimar Republic.

STANDS ALONE

"I am dependent upon no one," he said in explaining his own position as head of the government. Hitler resorted to the personal pronoun frequently as he presented his case to the workers. He told them the hall in which he spoke was "a symbolic place to address the workers of Germany."

He emphasized that the huge works is a "smith of weapons of war, but also a huge smith of weapons of peace."

A crowd estimated at 120,000 persons jammed the hall while an additional 750,000 packed the yards outside, listening through loudspeakers.

The Chancellor said he had made up his mind from the beginning of the campaign to speak once to the workers. He said many of his critics have done his job better than he, and then reminded them of the asserted gain in German employment.

NO SECRET PACTS

The Reichsfuehrer said he had never entered on any secret arrangements, nor would he ever in the future.

"But if other nations arm to the teeth, I shall certainly see to it that our sovereignty over our own territory is safeguarded," he asserted.

The Reich does not want war either at home or abroad, Hitler declared, but does desire conciliation.

"We do not intend, however, to let anyone put his foot on our neck," he said.

"A dictated peace was heaped on us, involving humiliating demands, including demilitarization of a zone as big as Belgium."

MINE BLAST KILLS THREE

Dynamite Explodes in Gold Workings Near Northbrook, Ontario

Belleville, Ont., March 27.—Three men, working with dynamite in the Richbrook gold mine near Northbrook, sixty-five miles north of here, were killed early today when the blasting power exploded. The men, along with six others who were not injured, were on the 300-foot level at the time.

The men who lost their lives were Peter Vanness, fifty, who was in charge of the dynamite, Fred Mayfield, forty-two, and Dave Berry, thirty. All were from Northbrook. Vanness's body was blown to pieces by the blast, while the other two were also killed outright but were not so badly mangled.

Cause of the explosion, which occurred at 2:30 a.m. is unknown. Three cases of dynamite, each containing 110 sticks, made up the terrific blast. The mine is owned by the Consolidated Mining Company of Plinton, thirty-five miles north of Belleville, and is situated between Plinton and Northbrook in Lennox-Addington County.

ANNUITIES ACT INVESTIGATED

Ottawa, March 27.—The Senate today stood adjourned till next Tuesday after deciding yesterday to refer to a special committee of investigation of operations of the Government Annuities Act.
Decision to hold the investigation was made on a motion of Senator P. B. Black, Conservative, Saskatoon, N.B., after criticism had been directed at the act, on the ground that high returns were becoming costly to the country and wealthy persons were "buying annuities to escape the income tax."
Final reading was given the measure providing for 5 per cent reductions from salaries of civil servants and a special 5 per cent tax on salaries of officers of the military and naval forces and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.
The bill amending the Soldiers' Settlement Act reached first reading. Its intention is to extend for two years the existing provisions under the bonus plan.

Lambs Return To Wall Street

Associated Press
New York, March 27.—The lambs are tripping back to Wall Street to gambol with the bulls and bears in a way that has some of the more thoughtful sections of brokerage opinion frankly disturbed.
With the current bull market just past its first birthday the stock ticker tape is once more playing to standing room in Wall Street brokerage offices.
One well-known broker told of a bootblack who turned up with $500. "He wanted to buy a block of a very low-priced stock—a stock I didn't like. I asked him why and he said the stock was cheap and looked like a good gamble."
The word "ventriloquism" means, literally, "belly speaking." It is made up of the Latin words "venter," meaning "belly," and "loquor," meaning "speak."

Senator McRae Protests Use of Restaurant by Ottawa Citizens

Canadian Press
Ottawa, March 27.—Parliamentarians are sorely vexed at being compelled to wait outside the parliamentary restaurant while outside guests fill the room, dining leisurely. The picture at lunch time in the restaurant established as a place where the legislators might purchase sustenance was likened in the Senate yesterday to a "ladies club" and the rush hour on a transcontinental train.
"It looked like a first-class ladies club in which a number of men had been permitted to get under the wire," Senator A. D. McRae, Conservative, Vancouver, told the chamber as he described how he and two colleagues had to wait one hour and fifteen minutes to get lunch.
CHAIRS TURNED UP
Chairs at two of the tables were "turned up" in order for outside guests. Possibly the increased popularity was due to "the activity of the new social hostess who has been added to the House of Commons staff."

On inquiry, he had found that more than 200 permits had been issued to residents of Ottawa, who, without permits, would not be entitled to the privileges of the restaurant. The situation constituted interference with the legitimate hotel and restaurant business of Ottawa, Senator McRae said, and he hoped steps would be taken to see the facilities of the restaurant were restored for the purpose for which the restaurant was intended.

GROUP OF PARTIES
Senator Lendrum McMeans, Conservative, Winnipeg, thought the difficulty arose from issuing tickets extending privileges of the restaurant for one day. For instance, ladies who wanted to give parties would get a member of either House to recommend they be accorded the privileges of the restaurant for one day. Often more than one of these parties took place on the same day.

The restaurant committee will be requested to investigate the situation.

U.S. Students Hope to Garble War News

Canadian Press
New Brunswick, N.J., March 27.—The Association of Future War Propagandists, composed of Rutgers University journalism students, yesterday announced it had elected William Randolph Hearst as national commander.
The newspaper publisher was chosen, the association said in a citation, in recognition of his "unending effort in the field of propaganda for the cause of disarmament and peace."
The propagandists, organized as a companion movement of the Inter-collegiate Veterans of Future Wars movement, demand immediate subsidies in the form of free college tuition for "garbled" news they expect to send from the battlefronts of a possible future war.

With Bill Before Commons Setting Up Board of Seven Directors in Place of Trustees, Ottawa Hears Reports President May Occupy New Post

Canadian Press
Ottawa, March 27.—A bill designed to transfer the management of the Canadian National Railways and affiliated companies from the present board of three trustees to a board of seven directors was before the House of Commons today. Introduced yesterday afternoon by Railway Minister Howe, it was given first reading.
A number of changes are provided in the bill to give the government greater control of the system. The government will select the directors and name the chairman. The president, who will be the chief executive officer of the system, while chosen by the directors, must be approved by the government.
A new clause has been inserted in the bill to require the approval of the government where by law the approval of shareholders of a company is required. This was dispensed with in the case of the management under the trustees.
The clause reads: "Whenever under the provisions of the Railway Act or any other statute or law the approval, sanction or confirmation by shareholders is required with respect to any company to which the next preceding section applies (the companies which make up the C.N.R. system) such approval, sanction or confirmation may be given by the Governor-in-Council."
A section of the present act which has been left out of the new bill reads: "No trustee shall be removed from office nor suffer any reduction in salary during the term for which he is appointed unless for assigned cause and on address of the Senate and House of Commons."

Under the new bill, the chairman must also be the president or some other person outside the board of directors may be chosen. Under the existing act President S. J. Hungerford is not a member of the board of trustees. The present trustees are Hon. C. P. Fullerton (chairman), F. R. Morton and J. Edouard Labelle. Previous to the act of 1923 the system was under the control of a board of directors of seventeen which included the president.

HUNGERFORD AS CHAIRMAN
While no announcement will be made until the new bill has become law, there have been frequent forecasts that Mr. Hungerford would be both president and chairman.
Three of the new directors will be named by the president. Two will serve for two years and the remaining two for one year. Later appointments will be made for three years. The salaries of the directors will be fixed by the government and provision is made the chairman will give all his time to performance of his duties.
Provision for independent audits and reports to Parliament are similar to those of the present bill.
The bill is entitled "An Act to amend the Canadian National Railways Act, 1923."

MOVIE STUDIO AT NORTH MIAMI, FLA.

Hollywood, Calif., March 27.—Last year's threat of the movie industry to move from Hollywood to Florida echoed in the announcement yesterday by M. H. Hoffman Jr., independent producer, that he would construct a new studio at Brandon Park, North Miami, Fla.
It will be known as the Pan-American Studios Inc., Hoffman said, and will begin producing pictures "around June 1."
Major film producers greeted the announcement with silence.

Commons Asked To Vote $51,167,229

Of Supplementary Estimates, $47,421,464 Is to Be Used To Pay C.N.R. Deficit for Year

Canadian Press
Ottawa, March 27.—Provision for the Canadian National Railways deficit for the calendar year, $47,421,464, accounts for almost the whole of the additional supplementary estimates tabled in the House of Commons yesterday by Finance Minister Dunning.

A total $51,167,229 is asked of Parliament to meet expenditures in the fiscal year ending next Tuesday, not provided for in previous estimates.
Miscellaneous items including loans to the harbor commissions at Montreal, Halifax, and Quebec, and Three Rivers and a grant to be made to British Columbia, accounted for $2,847,262, while the balance was divided among a number of departments.

The grant to British Columbia, $750,000, is an extension of a similar grant made a year ago when that province asked for a commission to investigate claims for increased subsidies. The commission was not appointed, but this increased subsidy allowance was made temporarily and is now being continued on the same basis.

AUSTRALIA TO ADD DEFENCES

Between Now and December $35,000,000 Will Be Spent by Government

Canadian Press Cable Via Reuters
Canberra, Australia, March 27.—The federal government of Australia will spend $7,000,000 (about $35,000,000 on "defence between now and December, it was made known yesterday.

It is understood the new defence plan includes the purchase of thirty-three British-manufactured airplanes, a secret programme of naval building and construction of further gun emplacements at the head of Sydney Harbor, on Rottness Island, West Australia and Moreton Island, Queensland.

Australian ministers who will go to London next year for the coronation of King Edward will confer with naval, military and air force authorities in Great Britain with a view to co-ordination of the defences of the empire and of empire trade routes, according to sources close to the government.

Conciliation By Germany Urged

Canadian Press from Havana
London, March 27.—A number of London newspapers yesterday asserted some conciliatory gesture was needed from Germany, in order to facilitate negotiations in the current European situation.
The Daily Telegraph said failure of Germany to make any conciliatory move should not be a bar to future negotiations.
The Daily Mail said: "The British government hopes that, despite other statements, the French government, supported by British guarantees, will join in general negotiations to bring about a period of peace for Europe."
Also discussing the French position, the News-Chronicle said: "Foreign Minister Pierre Laval has left behind him the impression that, whatever some Paris newspapers may say, France is genuinely anxious to negotiate with Germany."
The Times said: "It is important the Germany should realize their obligations to restore by some means or other the confidence of Germany's neighbors, which was so rudely shaken by the event of March 7."

"Aryan" Out of Nazi Vocabulary

Associated Press
Berlin, March 27.—The terms "Aryan" and "non-Aryan" are to be dropped from the Nazi vocabulary that made them common coins throughout the world.
Instead, under the Nuremberg anti-Semitic laws, the concept of "German or related blood" will be used.
The Reich's citizenship law and the law for the protection of German blood and honor, enacted by the Nazi Reichstag in Nuremberg September 15, 1935, used the words "German or related blood."

Vancouver, March 27.—Sydney Frederick Wright, twenty-eight, whose last known address was West Langley, B.C., has been left $24,000 (about $120,000) by an uncle in England, according to a letter received yesterday by a Vancouver newspaper from Mrs. Alice Woodward of 2 Flatow Road, West Ham, London, England Wright's sister.

The letter stated the uncle died three years ago and left Wright the money and 8,000 acres of land. It did not, however, indicate the location of the property, or whether the bequest to Wright constitutes the whole estate or only his share.

favoring the "principle" of state health insurance. He doubted if many of them knew what the principles were.
The term was well understood to mean any form of health insurance brought in by the state. On this formula the bill came within the category.

Regarding the need for it, Mr. Pearson said the very fact that all the members were supporting the principle was sufficient evidence of the widespread demand for a measure.
"We may not all like the present bill. It may not be what I want. But, it is as the Provincial Secretary has called it, the highest common factor," he said.
Mr. Pearson described in detail how persons with low incomes had to struggle for years to pay hospital bills, or sometimes did not go because they could not afford it. Doctors had told the 1929 commission that they collected only one-third of their bills, which meant that those who paid must pay three times as much as they should. These and the various other factors clearly demonstrated "something must be done."

The economic viewpoint was that it should be made easy for low-salaried people to pay their bills, and not necessarily the social idea of the rich paying for the poor.
The point about the bill had come mainly from those opposed to it, he pointed out, and the opponents seemed mainly concerned not so much about the scheme itself but of what it might lead to. Doctors possibly were frightened of state medicine which would limit their powers of charging fees. Industrialists were afraid it would spread right across the continent.

It might be that the bill had catered too much to these sort of feelings. If he had any criticism to make that measure to go on the statutes, SPREAD COST OUT.

"Very few people who really need medical hospital care cannot get it if they have no money. This can be said to the credit of British Columbia. But the cost is unevenly distributed. This measure will serve to spread out the cost."
The criticism that indigents were exempt was invalid, he argued. Indigents could not be included in any insurance scheme because insurance implies a contribution by the insured person. Care of the indigent was definitely a responsibility of the state and was not an essential part of an insurance scheme.
The argument that the burden was too heavy on industry could not be taken seriously. The Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company paid 6 per cent of its payroll into social security schemes for its employees, and was glad to do so. The bill only proposes a 1 per cent charge on industry.

As a matter of fact the charge on industry would be about 2-3 per cent of the payroll, since some employees were exempt. From a knowledge of the general business situation he could say definitely that a charge of this kind would not be a serious burden.

PRIVATE SCHEMES
Ultimately all private schemes should come under the government plan. He would not advise them all to come in now because the health bill might not offer them as good benefits as they received now. The main reason private schemes did not want to come in was because their own plans had been tested and they did not want to change.

Mr. Pearson laughed at the idea that the scheme was actually unsound. He thought the fund had been over-protected in its financial aspects, so that there was too much money in it now. This was no doubt because of the Provincial Secretary's desire to make it absolutely sound.

Doctors were unnecessarily alarmed about the bill. It was one of the finest things that could have happened to them, the minister said. In the private scheme for Nanaimo miners, several doctors had retired on their earnings and the contributions there were much smaller.

DR. W. H. SUTHERLAND
Dr. W. H. Sutherland, Liberal, Revelstoke, declared the bill was an "abortion" of the original scheme tabled in the Legislature last year.

He said Dr. Weir had been unfortunate in the choice of his advisers, who were men "of no business training—who have the foggiest notion of medical practice." Doctors did not wish to be dictated to by social service workers.

The original plan always had the basic idea of giving treatment to indigents, but these people were now left out, he said. He indicated he would submit an amendment on this in committee and force a vote.

He attacked the argument that health insurance had been the cause of improved medical practice in England, and declared the only definite provision in the bill was the salary of the commissioner. Everything else was left up to the commission to decide.

PHILOSOPHERS' CONTROL
"We'll have these philosophers telling us what kind of medical treatment we should have and how long we should stay in bed," he declared.

He pointed out that while workers all over the province would be assessed on the same basis, the hospital services they got would be very much different, because only in the larger centres like Vancouver and Victoria were the most modern treatments available.

Referring to the authority of S. H. Pipe on the actuarial soundness of the plan, he described it as "Weir's Pipe Dream."
There was no doubt that a large increase in hospitalization would re-

HERBERT ANSCOMB
Herbert Ancomb, Independent, Victoria, favored health insurance as a principle, but thought it should be done by federal enactment. British Columbia, he said, was always taking the lead in social legislation it could not possibly afford.

Talk about its actuarial soundness was all poppycock, he claimed, citing how the Superannuation Fund had become unbalanced although supposed to be sound. The one provision which permitted benefits after four weeks was enough to demonstrate this, he said. He challenged Dr. Weir to produce the figures upon which Mr. Pipe, the actuary, had passed.

The important issue of providing more hospital space should be decided before health insurance went through, he added.

PROFESSOR IN CHARGE
Criticizing the administrative set-up he said "we know the commission will be one of those professors who are being turned out hocus bolus from the university."

The huge administration staff would be built up into a big political weapon.
The entire scheme, he charged, had not the slightest semblance of insurance about it. If it had, the rates would be based on insurance principles. It was merely a new tax on a section of the people, who, if they would, could liquidate their sickness bills. The ones who really needed aid were left out.

To check abuses, he advocated an amendment which would require an insured person to pay the first $25 of cost, like is done in automobile insurance.
He termed it a "rich man and poor man's exemption" bill.
D. W. STRACHAN
D. W. Strachan, Liberal, Dewdney, declared the bill would discriminate against farmers in his riding. The Fraser Valley Milk Producers' Association, he said, employed a large number of people in deliveries, butter and cheese making, and would have to pay the one per cent levy on their salaries. This cost would have to be borne by the farmers, whose average salary was $600 a year, while the men they were paying for got an average of $1,020.
He read a resolution from the association which urged the government to delay the scheme until conditions were better. It stated that health insurance meant added cost on the manufacture of farm products without adequate compensation to the farmer.

Why should I be concerned about who administers my estate?

—Because you wish your estate to yield the utmost to your beneficiaries.

In every estate there occurs an inevitable shrinkage caused by succession duties, taxes, and debts. Frequently, in order to pay these items, some of the assets must be sold at a sacrifice.

Court records prove that estates administered by trust companies have had 10% to 15% less shrinkage than estates administered by individuals.

TOURIST BUSINESS GROWING

CANADA'S TOURIST BUSINESS LAST year, according to a statement issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, was worth $201,000,000, or an increase over 1934 of $71,000,000. Expenditures of tourists by automobile from the United States is estimated at $131,806,000 compared with the previous year's total of $86,259,000, and by rail and steamer, $59,109,000 compared with $34,260,000, while tourists from overseas countries are estimated to have spent $10,117,000 against $9,455,000 in 1934.

On the other side of the ledger it is shown that Canadian tourists in other countries are estimated to have spent $91,000,000 last year compared with $61,000,000 in 1934. Canadian tourists to the United States by automobile are estimated to have expended $50,206,000 compared with $32,645,000 the previous year, and by rail and steamer, $24,592,000 against $13,988,000. Expenditures by Canadians in overseas countries were $16,486,000 compared with $14,272,000.

Although last year's revenue from the tourist business was approximately $100,000,000 less than in the peak year of 1930, the very substantial gain over the previous twelve months is an encouraging sign and would appear to indicate that if the returns for 1936 do not reach the $300,000,000 mark they will not be far from it.

It is now recognized that the annual tourist business brings benefits to every part of the Dominion—to every community whether small or large. What it means to Vancouver Island generally is best understood by the fact that no fewer than 26,952 automobiles visited the island in 1935 compared, for example, with 12,574 in 1925. Last year's total, moreover, is only a little more than a thousand less than in 1930, before the effect of the slump had been felt.

The recovery of the tourist business is a reminder that well-planned publicity pays very large dividends on a modest outlay.

SHOULD BE FIFTY-FIFTY

THE PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT estimates for the next year include an appropriation of $30,000 for tourist publicity, which is additional to the usual vote of a similar sum for this purpose. The government thus will have $60,000 to devote to the encouragement of tourist travel to British Columbia, and if the money is effectively used the publicity should bring very satisfactory results.

A part of the new vote is to be allocated to the publicity organizations of Victoria and Vancouver, and it is to be hoped that the two cities will be accorded equality in the division. We have heard that it is proposed to give Vancouver a grant of some $5,000 and Victoria one of $2,500. This would be unfair to Victoria. The nature of the work done by tourist publicity agencies is such that per capita considerations should not apply. The advertising done abroad by Victoria and Vancouver benefits one another; each draws returns from the other's efforts. The matter is in quite a different category from an allocation of other provincial expenditures where comparative populations are largely the determining factors.

This is not to overlook the fact that Vancouver will celebrate its jubilee next summer, but a special provincial vote of $24,000 already has been authorized as a contribution to the celebration. Any grant to be made of the additional $30,000 appropriated for tourist publicity should be divided equally between the cities which operate tourist bureau agencies in an effective, comprehensive way, or it should not be made at all.

DUSTLESS GRAVEL ROADS

DUSTLESS ROADS, EVERYWHERE—that is the dream of the motorist. But cheap roads is what the hard-pressed taxpayer insists upon these days. Science has come to the aid of both the motorist and the taxpayer by discovering recently the means of making a road that is both cheap and dustless. The details of this achievement were presented in detail recently to the members of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy at their annual meeting at Ottawa by C. A. Robbins of the Ontario Department of Highways.

Common salt, mixed with proper proportions of gravel and clay, has provided the long-sought means of consolidating the gravel into a hard surface that is almost as hard as concrete, withstands wonderfully well the wear of heavy motor traffic and sheds water nearly as well as an asphalt surface. It is, moreover, readily bladed like a gravel road to keep an even, non-skid surface, and the holes that appear in time are easily patched with the same mixture of gravel, clay and salt that composes the concrete-like surface.

The salt-treated road surface of this character is a Maritime invention, having been tried out some years ago on stretches of the Nova Scotia highways by R. E. Chambers of New Glasgow, who has a salt mine at Malagash and wants to develop a market for his product in road construction. Like most inventors, Mr. Chambers got scant encouragement from the people of his province and the type of road he devised is now called popularly the "Michigan road," because engineers in that state have used it extensively for the past five or six years. Now the Ontario highways department has adopted the method, aided by the practical researches of the salt branch of Canadian Industries Limited at Windsor, who, like Mr. Chambers, want to extend the market for their product.

The construction of the salt-stabilized gravel road is not much different from that of the ordinary gravel road. The amount of salt required is one pound per square yard per inch of thickness. The thickness is usually two inches, which provides a wearing surface that will last for many years with the usual attention to patching and occasional blading. The salt is mixed with the clay and gravel and plenty of water and is spread on the road by the usual means. The traffic compacts this mixture into a hard, tough mass like concrete—in fact it is called "soil concrete."

Thus the problem of good roads for rural districts, off the main highway has been largely solved with the aid of one of the commonest of the minerals—common salt. Mr. Robbins described also in his address how salt, mixed with sand, is being used on the highways in winter to make safe driving in spite of glare ice and hard-packed snow. These developments are of prime importance to the whole motoring population as well as to those of the mining fraternity concerned with the production of salt.

IMPORTANT INQUIRY

THE COMMITTEE OF THE HOUSE OF Commons which was appointed a few days ago to inquire into radio broadcasting in Canada is getting down to work. It has been given very wide powers, under which it will investigate the entire organization, direction and control of broadcasting as well as the character of the programmes, including certain political outpourings in the last election campaign.

No doubt the committee will submit an informative and comprehensive report, and it is desirable that its recommendations will be the basis of a system which will be free from the criticism which has been directed against the present scheme of operation. It may be expected that powerful influences will be brought to bear to substitute private control of broadcasting for the present national control, and it is to be hoped that the committee will resist this pressure to the utmost. Admittedly, the existing system has revealed some deficiencies, which in all the circumstances are not exceptional, but its fundamental principle is sound and upon that foundation it should not be difficult to develop an organization and direction which will be generally acceptable.

"MULE-DRIVERS AND MUCKERS"

MR. ROLF BRUHN, M.P.P., HAS CURIOUS views about the University of British Columbia. He says it is a "social club for rich men's sons," and that most of its graduates in recent years have become mule-drivers and mine-muckers. As for the first phase of his indictment, it shows that Mr. Bruhn, although he is a former cabinet minister, knows little or nothing about the university, its operation or its student body. No doubt as Minister of Public Works in the late government he was so busy building political roads, including one in his own constituency, and putting ear-marked voters to work on them, that he had no time to familiarize himself with an establishment so far removed from practical politics as a university.

As for the graduates—very few of whom are rich men's sons—it may be that many of them have become mule-drivers and mine-muckers. Some of them may have been fortunate enough to wage jobs on Mr. Bruhn's roads or in one of his logging camps. But this implies no reflection upon them. On the contrary, it is very much to their credit. In recent emergent times people out of work, whether old or young, have not been able to pick and choose their opportunities. We have heard of former cabinet ministers who, while they may not have driven mules or mucked in mines, have been forced to even more desperate recourses.

If Mr. Bruhn or any of his colleagues in the House think the graduates who are now mule-drivers and mine-muckers should be something else, they are really heartily concerned about them, it should not be difficult to arrange for a general exchange of activities, provided, of course, that the drivers and muckers are willing to make such a concession. For the most part these laborers are doing more useful work than many of the members of the Legislature, and they know it. They may feel, too, that while the country would benefit if they changed jobs with Mr. Bruhn and other legislators who share his views, the exchange would be unfair to the mules and bad for one of our most important basic industries.

What Other Papers Say

WHAT WOULD CANADA DO?
The Hamilton Spectator

Of course, it is argued by some that Canada should stay out of any future European war, but shall this Dominion do nothing if the capital of the empire is bombed? The war would then cease to be merely a European war and become an empire war. We cannot avoid looking facts in the face. We can avoid the question, "What does the United States fear to cause?" For whatever the United States fears, Canada must also fear. The next world war may more justly deserve its name because it may be waged on this continent also.

DOCTORS FOR EVERYONE
The Johannesburg Times

It is shortsighted and impractical to support or condemn in advance any particular form of health insurance or state-supported medical service. Any satisfactory scheme will almost certainly have to combine several different principles. It is not a question of once more supporting the country at the expense of the towns. Urban and rural conditions are so utterly different that entirely different methods are essential to deal with them. The only principle common to both is that medical assistance should be brought within the reach of every citizen, no matter where the chances of life have fixed his domicile.

THEY PAY AS THEY GO
The Peterboro Examiner

For several years Peterboro has followed the plan of paying its relief bills out of current revenue. In that way the obligation of 1936 is dealt with in that year, and we believe that plan will yet have to be generally adopted. For this reason: Relief expenditure is not something which is going to disappear. It has taken its place as a fixture the same as education, public services, etc.

We believe it will diminish, but it will not disappear. The period of idleness has brought into existence a class of people who may not be employed again; the places they used to occupy will not again be open for them, and relief will have to be continued for their sake. A municipality does not issue debentures to pay for its regular services; it collects from the taxpayers regularly for the purpose, and relief has arrived at the point where it will have to be dealt with in a similar way.

Cities which keep on issuing debentures to pay relief costs have failed to recognize the permanency of relief, and by resorting repeatedly to debentures they have made certain of trouble enough with their tax rates of the future.

IMMUNITY

THAT highly specialized product of evolution, the democratic legislator, develops immunities unknown to the ordinary elector and the body politic. He can endure hardships which would quickly extinguish you who send him here to Victoria. On Thursday he endured an acute and prolonged attack of oratory such as the capital has not known for years.

For six solid hours the attack continued and fifteen speakers contributed to it until the crisis was reached about a quarter past eleven. The Legislature, the government and the health insurance bill all survived it triumphantly together. Twenty-eight Liberals and Socialists stood up for the insurance bill, five Liberals and five Independents against it. The only historical division in the life of this Legislature to date was over and a marathon debate.

But that, alas, is only the beginning. From this trying pan-ty House must leap now into the fire of committee when amendments to the bill by the score will have to be considered, with results as yet doubtful. Whatever they are, they will not be achieved without oceans of talk, beside which this debate on second reading may seem like a small unruffled millpond. As this is written just before midnight—the House still going strong—it seemed likely that the hoped-for prorogation would be deferred. Everybody is feeling pretty low.

PUNISHMENT

WHAT A DAY of sheer physical punishment this has been! Hour after hour they came, these men who wanted to put themselves on record, marching with a steady tramp, one after another. No other business was allowed to intervene. Stolidly the government sat back and waited, and everyone knew that we should not go home to bed until the government's bill had been passed or rejected.

It was evident from the first, of course, that the bill would be adopted, but the split in the party ranks was fairly formidable—five Liberals openly breaking with the ministry to exercise the freedom of action conferred on them at the last Liberal convention and several more indicating that they would vote against the bill on third reading if it were not amended meanwhile. In committee interesting situations may yet arise.

PIPE DREAM

THE LONG, weary day was opened by Dr. Sutherland, who likes to observe the House for weeks on end with a wooden look and a glassy silence, but has been fanned into a surprising state of articulation by the insurance bill. His speech was the most ambitious oratorical effort in a legislative career of two score years. He rambled on ably for a full hour, hurling invective at Dr. Weir's programme, which he called a "half-baked scheme," "an abortion," an "ancestral monstrosity," the product of "sob slaters and young philosophers." Finally, in honor of S. H. Pipe, the attorney who advised Dr. Weir, Dr. Sutherland rose to a supreme pitch of sarcasm and called this thing the "Weir Pipe Dream."

Dr. Sutherland was the first speaker to favor health insurance, but not the health insurance bill. There were many others. The supporters of the bill began to mutter that they all wanted health insurance so long as it is not now, not this bill and not some other bill—so long, in fact, as it is in principle only and not in a statute.

MANY MINDS

AFTER Dr. Sutherland came Mr. Ansonby, favorable to the principle, but hostile to the bill, Mr. Strachan of the same mind, Mr.

Bruhn likewise. By this time the government benches had stopped listening or they would have checked Mr. Bruhn up when he skillfully dragged into the insurance debate the evils of party politics, the $492,000 spent on traveling expenses in one year, the waste of this session and the government's policy of providing work and wages for college professors.

The C.C.F., through Mr. Winch the elder, Mr. Swales and Mr. Bakewell turned up their noses at the bill, but agreed to vote for it because nothing better offered, and besides, as Mr. Winch remarked, when the Socialists take office the sky will be the limit.

WHITEWASH

IN THE evening came Dr. Gillis, another Liberal highly critical of this ministry and especially of Dr. Weir. Not usually given to picturesque speech, Dr. Gillis surpassed himself by praising Dr. Weir's "handsome and artistic whitewashing" of the bill. At this Dr. Weir grinned, but when Dr. Gillis accused him of suppressing a certain letter which would destroy his argument, he spat out a quick denial. This Dr. Gillis said he would accept according to the rules, though he had read the letter himself. Mr. Speaker Perry insisted that one honorable member must accept the statement of another honorable member without any reservations whatever. Most of the cabinet proceeded to lay back in their chairs and chewed peppermints, thoughtfully supplied by Mr. McKee, to sweeten the taste of the debate.

Came Mr. Plante with the suggestion that the Premier was being put on the spot by his provincial secretary, Mr. Kenney with loyal support for the ministry; Mr. Carson with no doubts about the virtues of the bill; Mr. Johnson with grave doubts which, if not resolved in committee, would cause him to vote against the measure on final reading; and Mr. Pooley, who thought the whole scheme was ultra vires and would be thrown overboard by the courts.

LAST WORD

FINALLY CAME Mr. Pearson, with the government's last word. Mr. Pearson was selected for the job because, next to Dr. Weir, he knows more about health insurance than anyone in the House and because he has developed into one of the most competent debaters in our politics. As usual, he handled the subject in a businesslike fashion, with a nervous fluency, all tense and on edge, after with earnestness and cramped with information.

This brought the dreary argument to a snappy close, the division bells clanged and the eighteen legislators decided to give British Columbia a health insurance act—the most important piece of legislation in modern times. And so at last to bed.

"WAITING FOR LEFTY"

To the Editor:—In Sunday's Colonist there was an enthusiastic account of the play, "Waiting for Lefty," and an expression of the debt which Victoria owes to the Little Theatre movement for bringing the play to Victoria. May I have the courtesy of your columns to say that the Progressive Arts Club of Victoria was the only dramatic group which was willing to sponsor "Lefty."

The P.A.C. Victoria, was founded last August and got into touch with Mr. Garfield King in November. Later it began to take steps to bring Mr. King's company to Victoria.

On February 7 I got a wire from Mr. King asking me to meet him next day in Victoria. I could not go out, but in the afternoon Mr. King brought Mr. Victor Midgley to my house. It was then decided that Mr. Midgley should form a committee, on which the P.A.C. Victoria, should be represented, in order to bring the play to Victoria. Four members of the play to Victoria. ROYAL CAR HAS TO OBEY RULES

Queen Mary and Princess Royal in Amusing Incident

Associated Press
London, March 27.—Even the royal family may not break London's traffic regulations.
The News Chronicle disclosed yesterday that when a large green limousine tried to drive up a narrow one-way street in the busiest quarter of the city yesterday afternoon, a bystander shouted, "Hi, you can't go through there," and a police sergeant hurried up to rebuke the erring chauffeur.
Queen Mary and her daughter, the Princess Royal, Countess of Harewood, seated in the back of the automobile, smiled when the red-faced bobby, discovering their presence, sprang to a salute, the paper said.
The car was backed out by the chauffeur and proceeded by another route, the News Chronicle reported.

NEW OFFICERS FOR CHAPTER

Municipal I.O.D.E. Honors Retiring Officers; Reports Presented Yesterday

A change in the personnel of the officers of the Municipal Chapter I.O.D.E. was effected at the annual meeting yesterday, owing to the re-irement of several and the election of others in their stead. Mrs. Wm.
Ellis, the regent, and Mrs. Kyrie Symons, first vice-regent, were re-elected by acclamation. Other officers being filled as follows: Second vice-president, Mrs. F. R. Wright; secretary, Mrs. C. W. Wilson; treasurer, Mrs. E. O. Weston; educational secretary, Mrs. F. F. Beckett; organizing secretary, Mrs. A. H. C. Phipps; Echoes secretary, Mrs. J. T. Jones, and standard bearer, Mrs. J. W. Cashmore.

On behalf of Municipal Chapter,
Mrs. Kyrie Symons presented Mrs.
Ellis with a beautiful basket of spring flowers, and fragrant bouquets were also given to the retiring officers, Mrs. H. W. Davey, Mrs. F. R.
Wright, Mrs. Shanks and Mrs. Walter
C. Nichol.

SECONDARY EDUCATION

Reports of the standing committees revealed the wide scope of the order's work. Mrs. F. F. Beckett, educational secretary, noted that fourteen students had been assisted with bursary awards varying from $5 to $10 per month and other students had been helped through the Municipal bursary fund. Empire study had formed part of the programmes of the chapter's meetings, addresses by noted speakers being a popular feature.
Mrs. A. H. C. Phipps, organizing secretary, noted with regret the disbanding of the Royal Oak Chapter owing to illness among its members, and the reorganization of the chapter. Mrs. F. R. Wright's report of Echoes was read in her absence, recording 130 local subscribers to the magazine.

HUMANITARIAN WORK

Most interesting was the report of Mrs. George Miles, child welfare cen-surer, recording practical assistance, in the shape of milk, clothing, lay-ettes, Christmas hampers and stimulating gifts to needy families of ex-service men; clothing and toys for settlers in the Peace River and other isolated areas, many letters being received testifying to the value of this humanitarian work. Mrs. R. Shanks reported as standard-bearer.
Mrs. T. A. Johnston, in the distinguished visitors' report, spoke of the farewell tea given for Lady Bessborough and of messages of greeting sent to several other visitors to the city. Mrs. W. Ellis read the Navy League report; Mrs. P. E. Corby, the Girl Guides' report; Mrs. Ernest Eve, the transportation report; Mrs. Plumb, the soldiers' graves and unemployed relief camps' report, and Mrs. Kyrie Symons, the house committee's report.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Mrs. Alan Campbell gave the League of Nations' report and re-capitulated Great Britain's efforts to avert war. Problems which are involved and difficult to understand were explained in a most comprehensive manner by Mrs. Campbell.

FASHION SHOW AT EMPRESS HOTEL

The Major John Hedden Gillespie
Chapter I.O.D.E. is sponsoring a revue of spring fashions at the Empress Hotel tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, when members of the chapter will act as mannequins.
The gowns and hats are being supplied by The Plume Shop. The affair will be held in the lounge and would-be patrons are advised to book their tables without delay, as much interest is being shown.

Cathedral Women Hear Miss Harman

Miss Muriel Harman, who spent nine years as a worker in the "Heart of Africa Mission," a branch of the World-wide Evangelization Crusade, gave a vivid description of her experiences on Wednesday in the chapel of the Memorial Hall. She spoke under the auspices of the cathedral senior evening service of the W.A. and Miss M. R. Lawson, the president, introduced the speaker.
Miss Harman reviewed the history of the mission since its founding by C. T. Studd in 1913. The country covered by the mission now comprises an area the size of Great Britain. The staff consists of some forty-five workers.
Miss Harman spent four years in the medical mission among a leper colony. She described the work and illustrated her vivid description with a series of interesting slides.
At the conclusion, a missionary hymn was sung by Mrs. Shandley, and the meeting was closed by Bible reading and prayers by Mrs. J. T.
Dickson, honorary president of the senior evening branch.

Weddings

MATCHAM-LUNDY

A pretty but quiet wedding took place in Victoria yesterday afternoon when Kathleen Mary, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sykes of Prospect Lake, became the bride of Mr. Walter J. Matcham of Saltair, Ladysmith, B.C. Rev. W. G. Wilson officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked charming in a maize-colored knitted suit with dark brown accessories. Mrs. Jack Sykes, as matron of honor, was smartly attired in a flowered silk dress with green coat and hat. Both the bride and her attendant wore corsage sprays of roses.
Mr. Jack Sykes supported the groom.
Following the service, luncheon and a reception were held, and amidst many good wishes from their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Matcham left on the afternoon boat for Seattle, then for points of interest on the Vancouver Island before taking up residence near Ladysmith.

The Metropolitan Drama Group will present on April 14 and 15 in the schoolroom of Metropolitan United Church the Biblical drama,
"The Rock" by Mary F. Hamilton. This

Mary Joyce in Fairbanks
After 1,000-mile, Ninety-day Trek

Associated Press
Fairbanks, Alaska, March 27.— Venturesome Mary Joyce, twenty-seven, rested today after her 1,000-mile dog-sled trek.

Her "mush" was the longest and hardest ever made by a woman in the north, sledgers said.
Miss Joyce left her Taku hunting lodge, thirty-nine miles south of Juneau, December 20 and reached here yesterday.

She was on the trail approximately ninety days.

On March 2 she reached Tanana
Crossing, 195 miles southeast of Fairbanks. Here she stopped in order to fly to Fairbanks in time for the annual ice carnival March 5.
She was flown back to Tanana
last week to resume her trek.

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

In the matter of allowances almost all parents make one universal mistake. They furnish the child with an allowance, however small, but they dictate its spending. Now this is exactly as futile, as far as giving the child experience in spending and the management of an allowance, as if they had given none at all.

If all the child does is to transfer the few coins from his own pocketbook into a bank, or into the collection plate at church, what has this money meant to him, as money?
Literally nothing. It might as well have been so many buttons.

MONEY FOR CANDY

Mrs. H. P. O. has done this and then cannot understand why her daughter has not spent the money as dictated. She writes: "I have a six-year-old daughter who is an only child. Every week she gets five or ten cents for church dues and for school use. Her report card says that she has given only seven of this and when questioned she has admitted that she spent the rest for candy."

"I don't understand why she does this as she has from ten to fifteen cents worth of candy a week to eat."

You buy the ten to fifteen cents worth of candy, not the child. You aren't offering the child any exercise in spending, you are merely making her the instrument by which money is transferred from one place to another.

A child of six is capable of taking care of and managing ten pennies a week. Give her five or ten pennies on Sunday. Let her have her own pocketbook. Allow her to manage this money, all by herself, not asking her what she does with it. If some money must go to church or school, furnish her this separately and keep track of whether it gets to its destination.
Let her buy her own candy.

My leaflet, "How to Manage Allowances for Children," goes into greater detail about the necessity for this. It may be had by sending a self-addressed, three-cent stamped envelope to Myrtle Meyer Eldred of the "Baby and Mine" department of this newspaper.

W.I. Provincial Board Plans Fall Conference

Directors in Session Here Arrange Gathering for September in Vancouver, at Hon. K. C. MacDonald's Suggestion

MRS. M. L. MURRAY

A meeting of the Provincial Board of the B.C. Women's Institutes was called by the Hon. K. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, here today,
the first meeting to be held in four years. The members of the board assembled were elected at a conference held in Chilliwack in May, 1927, and are Mrs. J. D. Gordon, president, Victoria; Mrs. Mary Noble, vice-president, Hatzic; Mrs. Zella Mac-Gregor, director, Penticton; Mrs.
Evelyn Pitts, treasurer, Nelson, and Mrs. Margaret L. Murray, secretary, Lillooet.

This body of directors represent 162 Women's Institutes in B.C. with an aggregate membership of over 4,000. Only two meetings of the directors have been held since the Chilliwack conference nine years ago.

MINISTERS' PRAISE

In meeting the board this morning, Dr. MacDonald said: "We realize that a provincial convention for the Women's Institutes is long overdue.
This department appreciates the splendid work that is being done through the country women and the economic value they have been to the rural communities." The minister pointed to the many worthy enterprises that have been inspired by the Women's Institutes, namely, the Crippled Children's Hospital in Vancouver, the Soldiers' and Sailors' Club at Mill Bay and the Otha Scott Endowment Fund that has now reached the sum of $5,000.

"We believe that a provincial conference would draw the rural women together and much good would result from such a gathering. We are prepared to co-operate with you and assist you in making it a success, and suggest that it be held during the jubilee celebration in Vancouver, preferably at exhibition week," he concluded.

CONFERENCE PLANNED

The board decided to launch a programme in which every institute will be asked to co-operate and set on the suggestion of the minister to hold the conference the first week of September in Vancouver. While it is accepted by the board that many rural districts were still in the grip of the depression, an effort will be made to raise funds of a set sum from the individual institutes and go ahead to interest as many rural women as possible.

The B.C. Women's Institutes have always been assisted by the government. Organized in this province in 1909, they have been under the wing of the Department of Agriculture.
There are now eight districts scattered from the Peace River block to the Vancouver Island, and geographically place a very expensive undertaking of calling delegates together.

At the Chilliwack convention nine years ago, there were ninety-seven institutes. Despite the trying past nine years, they have increased both in scope and numbers. They have applied themselves diligently to the aims and objects laid down nearly thirty years ago to foster rural community life.

With the very wide area now covered, a plan will likely be laid before the conference in September of a federated nature similar to that of the prairie provinces whereby district conferences will elect directors to a provincial board, and the district directors will make up a provincial conference in the future.

HANDICRAFTS GROW

The development of the handicrafts industry was viewed with considerable pride and satisfaction by the board members. One member of the board recalled a simple little exhibit of wool-filled comforters in 1926 in Vancouver. One hundred and fifty orders were taken from Vancouver housewives, and not one single order could be filled. The country women in 1926 were too prosperous to make comforters at $12 a piece, she stated.
Many of these women would be glad to make them for much less now, but, on the other hand, housewives could not afford to buy them.

It was at the instigation of the Women's Institutes that representation was made to the Montreal branch of the Canadian Handicrafts Guild that resulted in a branch being formed in B.C. in 1927. It was estimated by the five members of the board reporting as they did on the handicrafts and wool craft industry from the interior of Cariboo, Kootenay and Vancouver Island that 5,000 spinning wheels and various devices, carders and looms were in operation today in British Columbia. The majority of these crafts-women and men are not engaged for the sale of crafts so much as for their own family needs, and thus an objective that was put forward for the commercial gains has resulted in a home industry of the most desirable type, and reflects credit to the country women.

OTHOA SCOTT

The board is the official guardian of the Otha Scott Endowment Fund, a sum of money that has been raised by the institutes throughout the province, and has now provided the $5,000, interest on which provides for the maintenance of one crippled country child in a hospital for a year.
A trusteeship made up of Mr. Allan Morkill of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Victoria; Mrs. Annie Gordon, president of the board, and Miss Hilda Leighton, invested the money in Dominion government bonds at 4 1/2 per cent interest.

Mrs. Margaret L. Murray was asked to reconsider her resignation from the board, that was tendered some five years ago. Mrs. Dewar of Oliver was appointed to fill the vacancy, but the constitution so reads that no member can be appointed only from the floor of a provincial conference.

SEEKS SHARE IN STORK PRIZE

Anonymous Offer to Finance Toronto Mothers in Miller Contest

Toronto, March 27.—Three Toronto mothers, contenders in the strange baby sweepstakes brought on by the will of the late Charles Vance Miller, yesterday said they were interested in the offer of Benjamin S. Gore, attorney-at-law of Bristol, Tenn., on behalf of an unnamed client, to finance seven mothers in the remaining seven months of the $500,000
"Stork Derby."

LEADERS NOT INTERESTED

While the three, Mrs. Stefano Darrigo, Mrs. Arthur H. Timleck and Mrs. Gus Graziano, revealed themselves as willing to consider the offer of $70 a month for each mother, Mrs.
Matthew Kenny, believed to be the leader, and Mrs. Joseph Bagnato, her closest rival, were definitely not interested.

Seven mothers received the offer in letters from Gore yesterday. It offered financing during the period of litigation which "must precede" final settlement of the will of the eccentric Toronto millionaire lawyer, who left $500,000 to the Toronto mother bearing the most children in the ten years following his death. The decade elapsed in October of this year.

Mrs. Kenny, whose five-year-old daughter, Mary, was reportedly threatened with kidnapping Wednesday, said she "couldn't see why she should share the money with the others."
"But," she added, "I will not let any of them starve."

WOULD CONSIDER OFFER

Mrs. Timleck, who had advocated sharing of the $500,000 between all seven contenders, believes the mothers should take advantage of "such a fine offer." Mrs. Timleck added she intended to discuss the offer with her lawyer and would "probably advise the Bristol lawyer we are interested."

But the two Mrs. Bagnatos, J. and G., found little to enthuse over in the offer. Mrs. Grace said she had had better offers from nearer places, and Mrs. Joseph explained she "wasn't going to do anything about the letters."

To Mrs. Darrigo and Mrs. Graziano the offer appeared attractive. The $400 they would get, they said, would be very useful and it would be nice to be sure of some money.

STIPULATIONS MADE

There were stipulations to the offer.
The seven leading contenders must agree to share alike in the legacy and they must return 15 per cent of whatever money they get to the unnamed client for "his trouble."

For an outlay of $3,450, on the $70 a month plan, Gore's client would stand to receive $75,000 of the $500,000.

Should the offer be favorable, Gore said he was ready to come to Toronto and made arrangements for payment.
His letters each had ten cents in them—three for the postage and seven for candles for the youngest child.

FILM COMPANY IN MOUNTAINS

British Cameraman Reach Revelstoke to Film the Story of C.P.R. Growth

Revelstoke, March 27.—Armed with boxes of film and a wide assortment of latest-type cameras, four technicians of the British-Gaumont Film Company arrived here from England yesterday and today began preliminary work in the filming of Alan Sullivan's romantic "Great Divide," the story of the building of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

G. R. Busby, production manager;
E. R. Bennett, chief cameraman, R. L.
Duncan, assistant cameraman, and T.
Marlow, technician, of the British-Gaumont Company, are being assisted by Neil Monclaire, camera expert of the Associated Screen News, Montreal, in photography which sees the start of the first great "epic" picture ever attempted in Canada.

Through arrangement of J. J.
Horn, superintendent of the mountain division, C.P.R., the British film men will have all possible facilities at their disposal in their work which will be concentrated at the present time around Glacier. Later they plan to move west to Yale in the Fraser canyon, where contractor Andrew Onderdonk, in charge of construction at the Pacific end of steel, maintained his base camp, and where Sullivan's central romance between big John Hickey and gentle Mary Moody has its genesis amid the rough and tumble scenes of a railway construction town of the '80s.

"We are tremendously enthusiastic about this picture," production manager Busby declared. "We feel we have a great story and the scenic character of these mountains as such as a grand scene as the photographic features are bound to excite world-wide interest beyond the fine human elements surrounding the building of your great railway."

Mrs. Murray has since removed to Cariboo and represents a large group of rural women, and her experience will prove of value to the directors for the preparations in the forthcoming campaign.

Mrs. V. S. MacLachlan, superintendent of Women's Institutes, was advised to proceed with plans and notices to the rural women and from this office arrangements will be made,

(From The Times Files)
Although owing to the cold wind, Saturday was not exactly an ideal day for baseball, the grandstand at the Royal Athletic Park was filled by fans assembled to see the land-sliders play their first game of ball.
There was nothing exceptionally brilliant in the game, but it was good average baseball with a few errors and a few flashes of first class work.

Using but five of her boilers and bucking a slight southwest wind, the G.T.P. steamer Prince Rupert, Capt.
Barney Johnson, arrived in port on Saturday afternoon after having made the run from Prospect Point to Brookside in three hours and forty-five minutes, an average of eighteen and a half knots an hour.

In a game of basketball on Saturday night almost rivalling in roughness the one played some time ago by the Y.M.C.A. and the Y.M.C.A. teams, the Y.M.I., intermediate champions of Victoria, defeated the Duncan five by a score of 37 to 15.

The first Victoria Automobile show and by the way, the first B.C. Auto-marked with a banquet at the Em-

MEXICO CHURCHES TO BE REOPENED

Associated Press
Mexico City, March 27.—The government of President Lázaro Cardenas has decided to permit reopening of the many hundred churches closed early in 1935 at the height of an anti-Catholic campaign.
Thus Mexico's Roman Catholics—who number more than 16,000,000 of Mexico's 18,000,000 inhabitants—will be able to practice their religion again.
The churches will remain the property of the nation, but will be man-

May Consolidate Fire Insurance

Advisability of handling all fire insurance on municipal property through one agent instead of distributing it among several agents who are municipal taxpayers, will be considered by the Oak Bay Council at a committee of the whole meeting.
The matter was discussed briefly by the council yesterday and it was pointed out consolidation of the policies with a single agent would relieve clerical work in connection with insurance and prove generally more satisfactory since there would not be several individuals to deal with.

T. KAWASAKI DIES IN TOKIO

Associated Press
Tokio, March 27.—Takukichi Kawasaki, Minister of Commerce and leader of the Minseitō Party, died today of pneumonia.

Kawasaki was one of those present at a Japanese council session in the imperial palace February 27 when the military coup had shaken the government and eliminated some of its leaders.

Kawasaki had held various official positions since shortly after his graduation from the law college of Tokio Imperial University in 1903.
The Minseitō Party, which he headed, is a comparatively Liberal organization. At present it supports the government of Premier Koki Hirota.

BUDGET DELAY AT VANCOUVER

Canadian Press
Vancouver, March 27.—Final passage of Vancouver's 1936 budget, and fixing of the mill rate for the year, has been deferred by the city council until the return of Mayor G. G.
McGeer from Ottawa, April 6 or 9.
Mayor McGeer, who is attending the mayors' conference, asked for the postponement in a telephone conversation yesterday with Alderman G. G.
Miller.

The civic budget, as originally passed, called for expenditure of $1,740,000 more than the city's estimated earnings for the year. It was hoped the British Columbia government would assist the city to meet this deficit, but government officials indicated such aid would not be forthcoming.

Summer Sweethearts

By Mabel McElliott
© 1935, N.E.A. Service, Inc.

Everything seemed to go wrong this morning. She was putting on a brand new pair of silk stockings—sheer ones with the finest and most delicate of clocks—when she started a great run in one of them. Then she broke a fingernail and, just before a main course, that was without a doubt the most maddening happening in all the world. Tears of rage stood in her eyes at the sight.

The caterers from 57th Street called. The caterers from 57th Street called to say they couldn't get the little cakes she ordered. They were making different ones now. Just as good. But Sally had wanted the ones with the roses on them. She was furious.

Then when she picked up an afternoon newspaper she saw that rain was prophesied for the morning. She flung the sheet from her in disgust. Rain for her beautiful wedding dress and those utterly exquisite white and silver slippers! She just wouldn't have it. That was all. Isabel, coming in with her hat of furs, found her in a humor. Isabel knew that something important and exciting was afoot but she hadn't yet heard the news of the impending marriage.

Big party on tonight?—Isabel rejoined in a treasury of village gossip and couldn't quite understand being kept in the dark.

"Yes—no—never mind." Who did Miss Sally Moon think she was, anyhow? Getting the big head, was she? Isabel strongly disapproved. Everybody had done a lot of talking about Sally's engagement to Michael Heathere. Isabel, polishing and snipping, applying dye with the tips of rubber gloves, fingers, soaping and rinsing and setting ridged waves, had heard all of it. She had even "stood up" for Sally because she was a customer and you ought to be loyal to your own customers.

Isabel set her lips tightly and packed up her kit and went away, silent and disapproving. She had never liked Miss Sally Moon anyway. She reminded herself. Catch Isabel "putting herself out" for Sally Moon again.

Made came and went with packages and messages in the big, ugly house on the wide street. Some of the people who knew the Moons rather well called up when their invitations were delivered. They exclaimed that Sally had given a march on them.

That Sally began to feel better about it all. The spot on her chin that had bothered her in the morning yielded to the frequent applications of an astringent; her hair looked well. She went down to dinner in good humor.

Michael was there. Silent as he was always these days, but beautifully polite and gentle. Annabel was impressed by him and said so.

They were to go over to the church in an hour. Sally drank a good deal of the white wine she loved it—and her laughter grew louder and gayer as the meal progressed. Michael looked at her once or twice in a vaguely puzzled way and Annabel, who put her hand over her glass whenever Frieda came around, was openly round-eyed.

Sally didn't care. Annabel was a terrible washout. She wouldn't dare to criticize her after this. Marriage gave you a certain standing. Michael could do as you pleased once you had the title "Mrs." before your name. That was one of the reasons she had persisted about Michael, even before he had come into his inheritance.

"Come on, everybody," she called rather shrilly. "Get to get this rehearsal business over."

They all piled into her car and she drove somewhat recklessly the half dozen blocks to the little red-brick church on the side street. Dr. Willette, the minister, had arranged to have the side gate left open for them, and they trooped in without attracting too much attention, although one or two idlers stopped to gaze after them. Sally was very gay. She felt exhilarated.

The plain, dark little church with the wooden benches and dark pulpit rather dashed her spirits, but only for an instant. Mr. Moon appeared from nowhere and Annabel, as proxy, went up the aisle on his arm. Sally didn't like this. Tradition or no tradition, it seemed plain silly to have her fat cousin meeting Michael and Joseph at the altar, quite as though she were the star of this particular occasion.

Annabel, blushing and briding at her Joseph, murmured coyly: "I, Sally, take thee..."

"She's not supposed to say that," said Sally quite angrily. But no one paid any attention to her. They were all staring at Michael, who had gone dead white and looked as if he were about to faint.

Before anyone spoke he glanced wildly around and rushed out of the church.

"Stop him," cried Sally wildly. "Oh, stop him!"

Michael dashed out into the quiet street. Dr. Willette had fallen half an hour before. There was the scent of bonfires in the darkness. A moon hung, poised uncertainly over the church steeple. There were clouds.

Hatless, he found himself running down the road. If someone came out of the churchyard and watched him, he was unaware of it. He swerved around a corner, was lost to sight.

His heart was pounding in his breast like a mad thing. The words Annabel had said so carelessly and jauntily were echoing in his brain. "I... take thee..." for better for worse...

A veil had been torn from his eyes. He was seeing clearly now for the first time in weeks. In this new dream there was a slim, fair-haired girl with eyes that burned deeply, darkly blue. In the dream she put her hand in his. She said the words Annabel had said, but with a difference.

"I, Katharine..." How could he, for one single instant, have forgotten her? He must have been half mad.

A roadster, careening on two wheels, shot down the road and went around a corner. Michael, in the shadow of the hedge, watched it go. Sally's car. But tomorrow—why good God, tomorrow he was supposed to marry Sally in that very church from which he had just fled! And who was Sally but a putting stranger? What a frightful mess!

Lucky for him this revelation had come on his wedding eve instead of his wedding night. Sally would have to know. He could imagine her rage and, manlike, blanch at the very thought. It would have to be put through somehow. He could face it, with the thought of Katharine to sustain him.

His heart lifted at the bare notion. Katharine—his wife! But where had she been all these weeks? What had she been thinking of him?

If he went home now Sally would be certain to find him. Later tonight he would face it, but just now the important thing was to learn about Katharine.

Rosa Ponselle Sings "Carmen"

Bizet's noted opera, "Carmen," featuring Rosa Ponselle in the title role, will be broadcast over NBC networks direct from the Boston Opera House tomorrow from 10:35 a.m. to approximately 2:30 p.m., P.S.T.

Other prominent Metropolitan Opera stars to be heard in the broadcast are Hilda Burke, as Micaela; Rene Mason, as Don Jose, and Julius Huenen, as Escamillo. Louis Hasselmans will conduct.

"Carmen," one of the most popular works in opera repertoire, has been an outstanding box-office attraction during the Metropolitan's current season. Following the broadcast of this opera on February 1, so many requests to hear Ponselle repeat her portrayal of the gypsy cigarette girl were received from radio listeners, that plans to broadcast the opera were again made by the NBC.

"Carmen" will be heard in Victoria over KOMO, Seattle.

METAL FOUND IN INFANT'S HEART

Chicago, March 27.—A due to the nature of the small piece of metal found in the heart of a newborn infant was advanced today.

The London correspondent who detailed the mysterious case in the Journal of the American Medical Association, yesterday suggested it may have been a contraceptive device.

The writer related how two physicians conducted a post-mortem on an English girl who "appeared normal" but died suddenly some hours after birth. Dissecting the heart, they found a piece of metal resembling brass or gilded tin, and "looking something like the claw setting of a toy jewel ring."

Although "fully aware of the incredible nature of the case," the correspondent said the examining physicians were "impelled to place" on record a letter to The Lancet (famed English medical journal) what they believed to be a unique occurrence in the annals of pathology.

Dr. M. Fishbein, a pediatrician, was "impelled to place" on record a letter to The Lancet (famed English medical journal) what they believed to be a unique occurrence in the annals of pathology.

plete change in the fundamental basis of society was needed, Mr. Swales declared.

ERNEST BAKERWELL

Ernest Bakerwell, C.C.F. MacKenzie, charged that the government had used an undemocratic way of bringing the bill to the House, with three weeks of wrangling in the Liberal caucus before the Opposition members had a chance to see it.

If the province lacked money to pay for its health service it should take over the brewery and gasoline business and would make plenty of money out of them to give every person the most complete service.

He thought something could be done under the scheme to check "jackpotting in drugs" and advocated a central laboratory to test all products offered to the public.

"The case for state medicine has been amply proved. At least this bill starts the machinery in operation," he said.

Dr. J. J. GILLIS

Dr. J. J. Gillis, Liberal, Yale, said Dr. Weir had "whitewashed" the bill in very artistic fashion, and demanded that the departments of Provincial Secretary and Education be separated and allow the minister to devote all his time to education.

As a member of the 1927 commission on health insurance, Dr. Gillis said there was no doubt as to the need for a scheme, but those who required it most were not under the present bill. Another important principle was that the government should share the cost with industry.

"No scheme should be submitted to the legislature until the co-operation of the insured, the employers and the government is assured. That is the only basis on which it will work."

Having taken an active part in the health insurance investigations, Dr. Gillis said he did not think the public believed the time was opportune for it. "We have not turned the corner yet," he added.

NO CO-OPERATION

He charged that there had been no sincere effort by the Provincial Secretary's department to secure co-operation of the medical men on the plan.

"Medical men are not opposed to state health insurance, but they want it to cover only those who cannot pay their sickness bills now," he said. According to the Retail Credit

Grants Association, a single man with a $100 a month income or a married man with two children earning $150 were able to meet their medical and hospital costs.

Dr. Gillis calculated that the average net receipts to the doctors under the bill would be $2,900 a year, which was very much for a qualified professional man.

If half the money to be spent under the scheme were turned over to health department to be used in extending existing services, the benefits would be greater than those of the insurance plan.

"The health insurance plank of the Liberal platform had nothing whatever to do with the Liberal victory," he declared, refuting the suggestion that the bill was implementing an election promise.

Dr. Gillis announced he would vote against it.

BYRON JOHNSON

Byron Johnson, Liberal, Victoria, said that wherever health insurance was tried it had remained in operation. There could be no doubt it had real value.

In B.C. there were several groups of workers now protected under private health insurance.

The government, said Mr. Johnson, had no right to force low-salaried workers to pay two-thirds of their health bill when the government was not paying anything. He estimated that of 132,000 employees coming under the scheme, 91,000 were getting less than $1,000 a year. The government should help them by paying at least one-third of the cost.

In some cases, he continued, the minimum level of thirty-five cents a week would run higher than 2 per cent.

"I'm absolutely opposed to the bill as it stands," he declared. "I think the government should make changes in committee to shoulder a larger share of the cost."

People running private schemes should have the chance to bring them up to standard, which would entitle them to exemption if the employees decided.

As the bill stands, I will have to vote against it on third reading," he said in conclusion, leaving the inference he would support the principle on second reading.

CLIVE PLANTA

Clive Planta, Independent, Peace River, claimed the bill as "eleventh hour legislation" being rushed through at a time when the provinces and Dominion were considering rearrangement of jurisdictions on many matters, among which were health matters.

He attacked development of bureaucracies by men who had never experienced the practical side of life, but stepped right out of colleges and universities into government posts and immediately set about building up the scope of their work, involving increasing government costs.

E. T. KENNEY

E. T. Kenney, Liberal, Skeena, said many of those opposing the measure were merely using the bill as a peg on which to hang general criticism of the government. He said he had confidence in Dr. Weir to administer the scheme in a good way.

He thought farmers should be included and for this reason favored Mr. Johnson's proposal for the government to pay one-third of the cost. He hoped Dr. Weir would accept amendments to bring in some who are now excluded from the scheme. However, believing a start should be made, he said he would support the measure through all stages.

R. H. CARSON

R. H. Carson, Liberal, Kamloops, recalled how proponents of health insurance in Great Britain had undergone vilification at first but persisted and brought in a worthwhile scheme. The history of develop-

B.C. ASSISTS RADIUM DEAL

Backs Cancer Foundation's
Note to Get Supply to Coast

The provincial government yesterday acted to assist the British Columbia Cancer Foundation to bring three and a half grains of radium from Montreal to Vancouver for use as a public supply in the battle against cancer.

Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, introduced in the Legislature a bill under which the province will guarantee a note for $105,000 to the Dominion Bank, which has agreed to advance the funds for purchasing the radium until the money is collected by public subscription.

The foundation has an option on the radium at $30,000 a gram and will now be able to take it up and bring the material to the coast.

The guarantee bill provides that the radium "shall be kept for use continuously within the province and the society shall be deemed to hold the same in trust for that purpose." The province is given a lien on the radium and its containers.

VICTORIA MAN IN FLOOD AREA

Vivian Giolma Gives Interesting Information of Experiences

With the cryptic comment, sit in darkness and wonder; the thought comes, "Isn't civilization a wonderful thing?" Vivian Giolma, former Victorian, now living in Wilkesburg, Pa., has given some interesting information on his experiences in the flooded areas of the United States. In part Mr. Giolma says: "The rivers reached a record flood stage yesterday, surpassing all official marks for all time. From the last reports that we heard over a automobile radio, the city of Jol town, Pa., which was nearly wiped out some years ago, was completely inundated, being under twenty to thirty feet of water. Tarentum, just about twenty miles up the river, was also one. Downtown Pittsburgh is completely closed, being under from five to fifteen feet of water.

"The works at East Pittsburgh are closed, as there is no heat, light, or power, and there is from three to ten feet of water over the plant."

NO LIGHT

"Street cars all over the city stopped yesterday when the power went off. There are no telephones, no light, the supply of candles in all the stores is gone. There is no milk, no meat, and in fact, nothing. As all railroads to the east are out, all highways flooded, and all the railroads to the west are probably out, we are in a pretty pickle. The river has passed the forty-four foot mark and as the twenty-five foot mark is about eight to ten feet, you can see that we go have a little extra water. To top it all, the city water system is supposed to go out today as the pumping stations are flooded out.

"As we could not go to work yesterday, we went down town to see it for ourselves. There were street cars stranded in the streets with just the tops showing. The police were cruising in rowboats. I got a snap of a canoe coming up the main street.

"On the north side it was terrible, for that is a residential district. People were stranded in the second stories, watching the swirling waters up near the ceiling in the kitchens.

Pots, pans, beds, chairs and tables went swirling downstream in the angry waters.

BOATS CRASH BRIDGES

"I saw no signs of life on any of the wreckage, but wondered, when I saw three houseboats, one after the other crash into the bridges, which normally some twenty-five feet above the surface were now almost touching. One of the houseboats had smoke still coming from its chimneys. The bridge caught it just beneath the roof. There was a splintering of wood that could be plainly heard from where I stood on the bridge upstream. The stream still swept on, reluctant to let its prize go. The bridge refused to give. Then the boat slowly began to tilt over until with a final splintering crash and a last cloud of smoke, the river won, and the houseboat disappeared from sight.

"They don't expect any power for about six or seven days, and the telephones the same. If the water goes out, and there is the food shortage that I expect, we will have something to talk about. Right here we are at least safe from the water, but we will certainly suffer from its effects.

So as we sit in darkness and wonder, the thought comes, 'Isn't civilization a great thing?'

Toronto and Americans Advance In Major Hockey Play-offs

THE SPORTS MIRROR

By PETER SALLAWAY

EVERY TIME we look at the final standing of a six-day bicycle race these days, the names Kilian and Vogel are at the top. Seven straight victories these two German lads have hung up. And that is some feat. Just ask Torchy Peden or Lew Rush, Victoria's two leading active exponents of the game. These two whirling dervishes mounted on bicycles have taken seven races since last December when they scored their initial victory in Madison Square Garden. It is an achievement that requires absolutely perfect physical condition and a combative nature that is willing to answer any sprint challenge on the wooden saucer.

The Germans are the discovery of Willie Spencer, who predicted his boys would win the Garden race last December, to the surprise of all the veteran followers of the game. They did, and in some measure repaid Spencer for his faith in them; for they won the race staged by Spencer's rival promoters, Harry Mendel and John Chapman. No one has been able to head off the flying Germans, since they won the December event. Not only have they won seven six-day races, but they are undefeated in short team events.

It has been suggested that the German combination should be broken up or they will dominate every race. That is something which is going to be mighty hard to do. Kilian and Vogel do not have to ride on this continent. They can go back to Europe and make just as much money riding on the many tracks on the continent. They are determined to stick together as a team.

The Nazi lads are by no means the only young riders to fall into ranks and replace veterans lately. Expert riders made their debuts during the last New York race. They included Alvaro Georgetti of Italy, no relation of Franco; Cesar Moretti and Albert Baccus, sons of an old Belgian team that rode at the old Garden twenty years ago; Ferdinand Grillo of Italy, Emilie Blott of France and Omer Debruycher and Alfred Verhaeghe of Belgium.

The current line-up of talent in the six-day bike field is more international than ever; in fact, the Jewish team of Cohen and Rodman, riding against Vogel and Kilian, has added to the races a feudist atmosphere. Now all the promoters need is a team from Ethiopia to ride against a couple of Mussolini's boys.

Speaking of Lew Rush, he was up to the office to see me the other afternoon. He is just back after doing very well in a couple of races at San Francisco and Oakland. Rush said that he is through with bike racing as a means of making a living and intends to settle down in some business in Victoria. "I will continue to ride in races but from now on it will be only a hobby," Rush said. It is possible Lew will go over to Japan for a series of races, under the promotion of a San Francisco man and Sotaro Suzuki, who is interested in the Tokio Giants Baseball Club, at present touring the Pacific Coast.

Mrs. Vera Hutchings Ford was another recent visitor. Mrs. Ford has just returned from a trip to England for her health. The former Pacific Northwest and Canadian Women's closed golf champion, said she was through with competitive play and would now confine her activities on the links to friendly matches. "I have won my share of championships and am content to rest on my laurels," Mrs. Ford said.

Maple Leafs In Smashing Rally To Whip Boston

Penalties to Shore Play Big Part in 8 to 3 Win of Canadian Club

DETROIT WINS TWO STRAIGHT

Toronto 8, Boston 3.
Detroit 3, Maroons 0.
Chicago 5, Americans 4.

Swept back from the brink of elimination by a stirring upset victory over Boston Bruins, Toronto's Maple Leafs were back in the thick of the Stanley Cup fight today, favored to meet Detroit Red Wings or Montreal Maroons in the finals.

A beaten team, four goals down on the round, they snatched at opportunity in the form of penalties to Eddie Shore yesterday evening and in less than eleven minutes punched in five goals that gave them a lead and eventually an 8 to 3 win—8 to 6 on the round.

The lightning-like switch in hockey fortunes left Bruins on the sidelines with Chicago Black Hawks who defeated New York Americans 5 to 4 at Chicago yesterday evening. The one goal advantage wasn't enough to wipe out America's 3 to 0 win in New York Tuesday and Red Dutton's team qualified for the semi-finals by a round score of 7 to 5.

MEET SATURDAY

Toronto's warriors and the New Yorkers clash at Toronto Saturday night in the first of a two-game series that will produce a finalist to meet either Montreal Maroons or Detroit Red Wings.

Yesterday evening Wings defeated Maroons 3 to 0 at Montreal for their second straight win in the three-of-five-game series of the National Hockey League championship. They renewed their battling at Detroit Sunday.

Normie Smith stood out as the hero of the Montreal struggle. His red and white cap pulled down tightly over his blond hair, the defenseman reached heights he had never attained before to keep out Maroon sharpshooters in the last eleven minutes of a bitterly waged game.

Little effect of the punishing marathon contest could be seen as the teams battled strenuously through two and a half periods before the break came that sent Detroit off to a win.

Dave Trotter high-sticked Hec Kilrea when the chunky Detroit speedster stepped into him to stop the Maroon left winger's flight down the ice. Trotter was sent off and Jack Adams put on five forward.

Syd Howe and Johnny Sorrell swept from their blue line. Howe took the puck at the Maroon defence, faked a pass, skated like lightning between Cy Wentworth and Steve Evans and lifted a short shot over Lorne Chabot as the Maroon goalie slid out to meet him. The puck caught under the top bar.

A NEAT GOAL

Lewis worked a scoring gem as he broke clear of a five-man Maroon attack as it desperately sought the equalizer.

No Maroon could get back fast enough, but Chabot moved out to cover the angles as Lewis faked a shot. He suddenly pivoted completely around with the puck nestling in the crook of his stick. The rapid movement caught Chabot out of position and the left-winger neatly lifted the puck home.

Maroons never let up, but they were trapped again with but forty seconds to go. Marty Barry got away fast with Lewis and Aurie, Lewis passed to Barry, who was chased into the corner, but managed to lay his pass out Aurie's stick. The right-winger fired a cross shot that caught the far corner of the net.

Though they fought every minute of the game and finished with a scoring burst that almost sent a crowd of 10,000 into hysterics, Black Hawks were never less than two goals down on the round to Americans.

A two-goal assault in the second period saw the New Yorkers had outscored them 2 to 1 in the first session, left them trailing Dutton's team by two goals and their final pair of tallies late in the third served only to offset a couple the New Yorkers had scored earlier in the period.

Earl Selbert and Mush March led the Chicago assault with two goals each and Doc Romnes got the other. Harry Oliver, Joe Jernia, Eddie Wiseman and Dave Schirner scored for the New Yorkers.

Dutton's men played off a consistently (Turn to Page 14, Col. 4)

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS

—By John Hix

Strange as it seems, the best and most accurate of time-keeping devices agree with the sun on only four days of the year—generally on April 15, June 15, August 31 and December 24, although these days may vary by a day from year to year because of the extra day in leap year.

At all other times your watch is running ahead of or behind the sun. This difference is accounted for by the sun's uneven motion in relation to the earth, hence the unevenness of sundial time. Generally speaking, from December 24 to April 15 and from June 15 to August 31, sundial time lags "after the clock." At other times it runs "before the clock." The greatest difference occurs in the early part of November when sundial time is off by 16 minutes, 21 seconds.

Robert Heron, 1764 to 1807, was imprisoned for his debts in about 1791. During his stay in jail he wrote his "Comforts of Human Life" and published it shortly after his release.

Another English author, James Beresford, who was born the same year and who lived amidst ease and plenty, made his biggest hit with a book called "The Miseries of Human Life."

NEW ATHLETIC CLUB GATHERS

Victoria Athletic Club Adopts By-laws; Plans Made for Dance Soon

Adoption of a set of by-laws, naming of the social committee, laying of plans for a dance and discussion of Victoria sports occupied the first general meeting of the newly-organized Victoria Athletic Club held yesterday evening in the Elks Club, Douglas Street. The session was well-attended with President Jack McKenzie in the chair.

A set of rules and regulations as drawn up by the executive met with the approval of the members, and was ratified.

President McKenzie announced the social committee as follows: W. Cameron, P. Noel and P. Shrimpton. The committee later elected Cameron as chairman. This group will make arrangements for a dance to be held in about four weeks' time, and will report back to the executive. Definite date of the dance and where it will be held will be announced within a few days.

WILL PLAY FINAL FOR LOVING CUP

The final game of the Loving Cup series will see Lake Hill Firestones and West Saanich Mercantiles clash in what should be one of the liveliest hoop games yet seen between the two clubs at the West Road hall on Saturday evening, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. Dancing will follow the game.

The free-shot championship for the West Saanich Mercantile Cup will be concluded, twenty-five shots from the foul line being given each contestant.

Huskies Win Cage Series

Saatchi, March 27.—The Olympic games in Berlin became the goal today of the University of Washington Huskies who will represent the Pacific Coast in the National Olympic Games basketball trials starting next Friday in New York, Washington, champion of the northern division of the Pacific Coast conference, won the honor here yesterday evening when it smashed out a 35 to 29 victory over the strong Oregon State College team before 9,500 spectators in the University Athletic pavilion.

STRELICH TO MEET N. DAVIS

Young Heavyweights to Appear on Tomorrow Night's Wrestling Card

Mike Strellich will appear in the semi-windup bout Saturday evening in the weekly mat show at the Tillamook gym, when he will exchange grips with Nelson Davis, Norfolk, Virginia.

Chief Little Wolf and Bob Kruse, Oregon, will fight it out in the eight ten-minute round top-notch tilt, while the opener at 8:45 o'clock will see two local boys perform.

A good exhibition of wrestling should ensue when the two youngsters, Strellich and Davis meet in their scheduled five eight-minute round encounter. They prefer the use of clean tactics rather than the rough style.

Kruse has built up a good record in coast wrestling circles and will no doubt give the "Chief" plenty to worry about.

Chief Little Wolf boasts two victories over the present champion, Dick Shikat. He lacks nothing in the art of wrestling and is always ready to take on any of the top notchers.

RIFLE BODY HEADS NAMED

Brigadier-General J. S. Dunbar Returned to Post As President

Election of officers, reception of reports and announcement that Heals Range would be opened for the season with a shoot on Good Friday, featured the annual meeting of the Victoria and District Military Rifle Association in the Armories yesterday evening.

Brigadier-General J. S. Dunbar was returned as president. Other officers were elected as follows: Honorary president, Brigadier D. J. MacDonald, D.O.C., M.D., 21, vice-president, Captain B. J. Gadsden, 5th B.C. Coast Brigade (R.C.A.); secretary, Private A. W. Evans, 16th Canadian Scottish; assistant secretary, Bandman F. Drysdale, 16th Canadian Scottish.

Hon. J. Fordham Johnson, Premier Pattullo, Hon. R. Randolph Bruce, former Lieutenant-Governor; Hon. Colonel S. L. Howe and R. P. Butchart were named patrons of the association.

Representatives were named to the executive as follows: 5th B.C. Coast Brigade, Captain B. J. Gadsden; 16th Canadian Scottish Regiment, Sergeant A. Ashe. The Garrison representative will be named by the Garrison Rifle Association and his name forwarded to the V. and D.M.R.A.

The competition on Good Friday will be over 200, 500 and 800 yards and will start at 9 o'clock in the morning.

The meeting adopted reports on activities last season and ruled out the 1914 rifle from competition. The S.M.L.E. issue rifle only will be used.

Stories over the present champion, Dick Shikat. He lacks nothing in the art of wrestling and is always ready to take on any of the top notchers.

Semis of Scottish Cup On Tomorrow

Hank Greenberg Signs Contract

Lakeland, Fla., March 27.—Hank Greenberg, last of the important holdouts, signed a contract to play first base for the world champion Detroit Tigers after a long conference with club officials yesterday evening.

Terms of the contract were not announced.

His 1935 salary was reported to be $12,000.

Glasgow Rangers Heavy Favorites to Defeat Clyde in Soccer Classic; Falkirk and Third Lanark Even Bet; Important Games in English League

Glasgow, March 27.—The Scottish Football Cup competition, with an upset in each of the four rounds to date, enters the semi-final stage tomorrow and the four trophy candidates are putting final touches to training and tactics. The final will be played April 18.

Another upset is hardly expected, however, when Clyde meets Rangers at Hampden Park and Falkirk and Third Lanark tangle at Tynecastle. Rangers are so much better than their Shawfield opponents that even talk of a "giant-killing" act has now reached the vanishing stage, while the other semi-finalists are about on a par. It is generally conceded the Throx Park team will defeat Clyde and go on to clinch the trophy in the main event.

LEAGUE PLAY

In league play a real fight is going on at both ends of the standing. Hibernians in nineteenth position, one point up from Airdrieonians, have a tough game tomorrow with the Celts at Parkhead. The third-place Aberdeen team plays at home against St. Johnstone's.

The battle that promises real action is in the Ayr United-Airdrieonians contest on the former's grounds. Airdrie occupies the cellar berth, two points behind the United, two runs up.

Leading positions in the second division will not be altered after the week-end games. St. Mirren, runner-up, has an open date, while the third-place Alloa squad is eight points behind the Saints. At Brechin, Alloa is expected to reduce the margin to six.

London, March 27.—English soccer clubs racing neck and neck for promotion or struggling desperately against relegation will play another series of vital league games tomorrow. The league championship is almost within Sunderland's grasp, but the Roker Park outfit has disappointed its supporters in recent games and a two-point margin of a few weeks ago has been cut to six. Tomorrow Sunderland visits Middlesbrough where points will be hard to obtain.

Aston Villa will be hard to obtain. Aston Villa is at the bottom of the first division are finding it hard to make headway while West Bromwich Albion, another club with great traditions, is also in the danger zone. The Albions will not have much chance at Huddersfield. Aston Villa is at home to its neighbors, Birmingham, while Blackburn Rovers go to Preston.

The last-place Hull City team would create the surprise of the day if it could defeat West Ham United, leader of the second division.

In the southern section of the third division, Luton Town should experience no difficulty in retaining its leadership at the expense of Aldershot.

There is a distinct possibility that Chesterfield will move into undisputed leadership in the northern section. Tranmere Rovers, who share top place with Chesterfield, are away to the strong Chester squad. Its rival should easily capture maximum points from Wrexham.

OLYMPICS IN SECOND WIN

Windsor, Ont., March 27.—Hockey-mad Detroit raved today over their Red Wings and in almost the same breath brought up the subject of the Olympics.

While the Red Wings have taken a two-game lead over Montreal Maroons for the National League title, the Olympics have whipped Syracuse Stars two straight in their first-place International League playoffs.

The Stars and Olympics moved into Syracuse for the remainder of the best-of-five series with Detroit warm favorites to win out and proceed to the league championship against the survivor of the Buffalo-Cleveland and Windsor-London playoffs.

Olympics scored 2 to 1 again yesterday evening on a pair of goals by Wilf Starr. Starr, continuing his brilliant work from the first game, bagged one in each of the first two periods and then helped hold Syracuse to a lone tally by Eddie Convey.

Lloyd Gross, helped by Ken Doraty, scored a third period goal for Cleveland and the Falcons took a 1 to 0 lead for the second game in Niagara Falls Saturday night.

Kimberley Captures First Game of Western Hockey Final

Midget Mackie Leads Club to Overtime Win

Scores Two Goals in Extra Period to Defeat Fort William 6 to 5

Second Battle Tomorrow Night

Calgary, March 27.—Scoring punch—hockey's TNT—packed in the stick of the mighty midget, Hugo Mackie, left Kimberley Dynamiters with a one-goal lead today in their best-of-three series with Fort William Wanderers in the western Canada senior hockey final.

The brilliant pee-wee centre rifled two quick goals into the Fort William net in overtime to give the British Columbia champions a 6 to 5 victory here yesterday evening over the Manitoba-Thunder Bay titlists.

That was one stroke of revenge for the powerful Dynamiters, eliminated by the lakehead outfit in the 1934 western final. Kimberley hopes to complete the job in the second game to be played here tomorrow. The third game, if necessary, will be staged in Calgary Monday.

Besides the two overtime goals needed for a win, Mackie fired the tying goal with less than four minutes to go in the third period and won the battle of the tiny centres between himself and the still smaller Ossie Macquill of Fort William. Previously Mackie had counted on a solo effort forty seconds after the second period started.

GAIN EARLY LEAD

Fort William obtained an early advantage when Gordon Houston scored two easy goals in the first period and began to play defensive hockey but the flashy Kimberley forwards streaked through the heavy-hitting Wanderer rear guard often enough in the second to bring the Fort William attack back to life.

The Kimberley attackers took a minimum of punishment from the Ross Knowles-Bobby McCranor defence who found it hard to connect with the elusive speedsters. Dynamiters were never on the defence and seldom showed even a semblance of a bodycheck. They played four men up most of the time.

Harry Brown, the coast champions' galloping defenceman, scored one goal besides shooting a pass to Mackie for the first overtime counter. He rushed often and most of his sorties wound up near the Fort William goal. Jack Forsey tallied the other Kimberley goal and had one assist. Ralph Redding had two assists. Fred Bottrell and "Puffy" Kemp one each.

Gordon Houston and Murray

Teple were most potent of the Wanderers' attackers, each getting two goals. Houston did all his scoring on solo efforts in the first and Teple counted twice in the second. Joe McArthur, who counted Fort William's overtime goal on a pass from Knowles, got assists on both Teple's counters.

Lady Luck should have got an assist on both Houston's goals. His first—a high shot from the wing—curved over Goalie Ken Campbell's right arm into the upper outside corner of the net. The netminder didn't see the puck until he picked it out of the net. Loose defensive play allowed Houston to grab the puck behind the Kimberley net less than a minute later. He drew Campbell to one side of the net and circled the puck into the other.

Dynamiters opened up in the second and Mackie found the range in less than a minute on a pass from Redding. Campbell had no chance on Teple's shot through a maze of players three minutes later. A double pass, Forsey to Kemp to Forsey, ended with the fast-skating centre lifting the puck past Macquill.

DEADLOCK SCORE

Brown tied the score for Kimberley on a power-play. Bottrell passed to Forsey and the latter relayed the puck to Brown, who dashed from the corner to score. Teple was waiting in front of the net when he got McArthur's pass four minutes later and he made no mistake.

With that one-goal advantage Wanderers elected to play defensive hockey in the third and it took the British Columbia champions sixteen minutes to break through. Mackie was in front of the net when Redding passed from behind the net and the little fellow kept the puck going right into the net.

Wanderers began to tire in the overtime under Dynamiters' sustained drive. Brown made the play for the first overtime goal. He intercepted a Wanderers' pass and streaked for the Fort William goal. As he reached the defence he passed to Mackie and the latter found a corner from twenty feet out. Mackie was in the right place again a minute later when Redding passed from the corner and the little centre scored. McCranor was on the penalty bench at the time.

That goal stung the Lakehead crew into action but they didn't have much time left. McArthur scored with only twenty-eight seconds to go on a pass from Knowles. Wanderers fought vainly during the remainder of the period for the tying goal.

TROPHY RUGBY GAME BILLED

Fifth Brigade Will Meet Cowichan in Knockout Series Tomorrow

As Victoria's rugby season dragged closer to its finish today, local followers had prospects of seeing Cowichan players in action here for the first time this year. Tomorrow the team from Duncan is scheduled to meet the Fifth Brigade, Barnard Cup and Cowichan Trophy holders, in the second of the knockout series games for the island title.

The fixture is listed for MacDonald Park at 3 o'clock.

The winner will advance against the Canadian Scottish in the cup final. Last week the Highlanders eliminated the Bays-Wanderers from the series and to gain the final. The championship fixture will be played a week from tomorrow, and will officially terminate the local season.

The gunners are expected to have little difficulty with the up-islanders, despite the fact the Brigade will be without some of its stars. Wally Stipe, scrum half, has hurt up his boots for the season. Doug Feden has wound up his activities on the rugby pitch, and Bob Engelson, hard working forward, may not be available for duty.

G. Langdon will probably replace Stipe behind the scrum, with Bert Simpson moving in from the wing to fill up the gap if Engelson is not on deck. If that switch is made, Fred Smith, another intermediate, will be brought up to the senior company for the game.

TRAIL TAKES CAGE HONORS

Vancouver, March 27.—Trail's snappy quintette today prepared to carry the Kootenay's bid for the right to represent British Columbia in the Dominion men's senior A basketball playdowns, into the camp of Victoria Dominions following their 26 to 21 victory over Forests of Vancouver here yesterday evening.

Yesterday evening's decision gave the West Kootenay hoop squad the provincial men's senior B title by a 51 to 47 score in the total-point series. They lost the first game here Wednesday, 26 to 25.

The interior champions started off at a terrific pace and at half time led 18 to 11.

Both teams displayed speedy basketball and kept the score seesawing until the final ten minutes of the game when Trail gained a small margin.

Overanxiousness by the Vancouver team caused them to turn summary errors and gave the visiting team free shots which they took advantage of to add to their total.

Bardsley led the scoring for Trail and piled up the high total for the series. Willoughby cinched the match for Trail when he netted a basket from centre floor on a long shot.

NEWS IN BRIEF

On a charge of vagrancy, Foo Lay, Chinese, was remanded until tomorrow when he appeared in the City Police Court this morning. Miss Norma P. Carlson, 113 Gorge Road, gave evidence this morning of the accused according her yesterday evening on Government Street.

Sentence was again reserved for a week by Magistrate Jay in the case of George Brassard, Saanich farmer, who was convicted on a charge of failing to provide adequate food and care for his cattle. Brassard said some of the cattle were now in pasture at Sooke and arrangements were being made to take the remainder out.

Next Tuesday was set as a peremptory date for the hearing of Caesar Finnemore on a charge of assaulting Alex. Muirhead and occasioning actual bodily harm, when he appeared in the City Police Court this morning. A. J. Patton, defence counsel, opposed the move, saying a material defence witness was ill in hospital and may not be able to appear on that date.

Opening of the trial of action of W. A. Brethour against Edward Hodgson was today set, over until April 8. The action grows out of the litigation extending back to the war days between Mr. Hodgson and W. J. Taylor, K.C., which resulted in Mr. Hodgson finally gaining possession of Mr. Taylor's Mallowmoor farm in North Saanich. Mr. Brethour was counsel for Mr. Hodgson during the litigation.

The Veterans of France, at a meeting of the executive in the clubrooms yesterday evening, went on record as unanimously supporting any movement that will establish an arena in the city. R. Martin, vice-president, was presented with a travelling bag, on his leaving to take up residence in Vancouver. A special smoking concert has been arranged for tomorrow evening, to be held in the clubrooms, commencing at 8 o'clock, when the following artists will entertain: B. Brown, Leon Foster, C. W. Draper, W. Williams, F. Pitts, G. Goodmurry, P. McDonagh and others.

SALE SYSTEMDATA SOUGHT

Information Sought on St.

Boniface Land Disposal

Method

In the hopes of securing data which might assist the city in putting reverted property back on the tax list, Alderman Walter Luney today requested the city clerk to communicate with officials of St. Boniface, Manitoba, to determine the policy adopted in that centre.

According to the alderman's understanding of the practice there, St. Boniface has, with the consent of the people through vote, instituted a system of allowing purchasers of reverted property exemption from taxes for a period of three years in order to accelerate sales.

The question, the alderman said, had been referred to the ratepayers in the form of a plebiscite and had been endorsed by a three-fourths majority. It had been successful, he understood, it had been extended for another three years.

Alderman Luney fully realized such policy would have to be referred to the people before it was put into practice and the result of the vote would determine what action should be taken.

In elaboration of the theory today, the alderman stated only those properties on improved streets, where all services were furnished, would be up for sale on those conditions. He did not expect the city to permit sale of property in undeveloped areas where capital outlay would have to be made by the city to establish the services.

By selling property along the St. Boniface line, he pointed out, the lots would be developed and while the city would not gain actual taxes for a period of three years in each case where improvement was carried on, it would at least receive some return for services, such as water, sewer, etc.

In all cases, it was understood, sale would be contingent on the erection of a home.

WINNIPEG MANHAS CHEST HURT

Donald R. Roland of Winnipeg, a guest at the Empress Hotel, suffered chest and face injuries in a collision about 10 o'clock yesterday evening in which his car was involved with a machine driven by another guest of the hotel, A. M. McDermid.

Mr. Roland was driving north on Douglas Street when he was in collision with Mr. McDermid near Broughton Street. Mr. McDermid was driving south on Douglas Street. Mr. Roland was thrown against the steering wheel and windshield by the impact, and his injuries necessitated removal to St. Joseph's Hospital, where he was attended by Dr. Gordon Keating.

In another accident, about 7.30 o'clock, cars driven by J. F. Pogson, 815 Government Street, and Hubert E. Best, 1038 View Street, collided at the corner of Quadra and Johnson Streets. Mr. Pogson's car was turned on its side by the impact, but no personal injuries were reported to police.

Saanich Tax Rate Remains UnchangedBritish Laborite Wins By-election

London, March 27.—The Labor opposition today retained the Carmarthen-Llanelli seat in the House of Commons in a by-election.

The result: James Griffiths, Labor, 32,168; W. A. Jenkins, Liberal National, 15,697.

Labour majority 16,461.

In the general election last November Dr. J. H. Williams was returned unopposed for Labor. The by-election was made necessary by his death.

For the third successive year no provision will be made for payment of the current sinking fund instalment, amounting to $35,919.

Provision has been made, however, for an increase in the relief scale, which will add approximately $1,000 to the budget but the scale has been boosted to the maximum allowed under the provincial municipal agreement.

Based on 3 per cent of collections, it is estimated $113,300 will be received on the general rate and $65,000 for the school rate. The general levy is 28.3 mills and the school levy 15.3 mills.

The following act as pallbearers: Dr. F. Buchanan, Captain W. E. Tapley, H. J. Cameron. The remains were laid at rest in the family plot in Royal Oak Burial Park.

The funeral of Robert Oldham Clarke was held in St. Mark's Church, Cloverdale, yesterday afternoon, Rev. O. L. Jull conducting an impressive service. The hymns sung were "Nearer, My God, to Thee" and "Jesus Lives." The casket was draped with the Union Jack. The following acted as pallbearers: Regt. Sgt. Major F. E. Dutoit, Regt. Sgt. Major B. S. Williams, J. C. Rivers and J. B. Boyd, representing the Army and Navy Veterans. The remains were laid at rest in Royal Oak Burial Park.

The municipality's share of unemployment relief costs, on the present 20-20 per cent basis, is estimated at $24,000, which means an estimated cost for municipal relief of $120,000 for the year. In this account last year $30,000 was the estimate and the actual expenditure was $38,000. The allocation for the roads and bridges account, which consists chiefly of materials for relief work, is $40,000.

Police department estimates are $12,465, while $9,500 has been budgeted for office and general administration. Administration and maintenance of the water department is estimated at $4,000, while $37,325 has been allowed for interest on debentures. For purchase of water from the city, the allocation is $18,500. This figure may be subject to revision when the water agreement comes forward for renewal this year.

While making no provision for the sinking fund instalment, the council has also made no allowance for state health insurance.

The total estimated expenditure for the year is $391,600, or $7,590 less than the estimate for 1935 and $48,768 less than the actual 1935 expenditure.

The taxable assessment for general purposes is $5,094,284, and for school purposes, $5,423,195. Based on 100 per cent of collections the tax rate would be $218,959, while on 83 per cent it will bring $181,700.

BID FOR MILLIS DECLINED*City Lands Committee to Ask Council to Refuse $20,000 Tender

The City Council, at its next meeting, will receive a recommendation from the lands committee advising refusal of the $20,000 bid for the machinery of the C.P.S. mill. Decision to take that course was reached by the committee following a meeting with H. Cathcart, deputy minister of lands, yesterday.

The committee, composed of Alderman R. A. C. Dewar, chairman; Alderman Archie Wills and Alderman Angus Macdonald, along with H. S. Pringle, city solicitor, and Major M. K. Crockett, lands commissioner, interviewed the deputy minister and discussed the question.

HOPE TO KEEP INDUSTRY

It was generally felt efforts should be made to sell the mill as a going concern in order to maintain the industry in Victoria, with its resultant assistance to the unemployment problem.

During the next few months the committee will attempt to secure a purchaser to operate the mill, and if one is not forthcoming, the machinery and equipment may be sold piecemeal. It was believed a better price could be secured through that method than turning over the equipment for the blanket sum of $20,000.

In addition to considering the C.P.S. question, the committee decided to recommend to the council the sale of four parcels of land to private buyers.

Transposing of two letters, an "s" and a "t" in one word in a telegram directed from Vancouver resulted in giving a story in yesterday evening's paper a meaning quite different from what was intended. As the story appeared in type, it said the Court of Appeal had "reversed" judgment in the John Clayton $200,000 estate case. What happened was the court "reversed" judgment, as was written by the court reporter in Vancouver.

Fine Work Shown At Night School

Boy Scout Notes

The total number of Boy Scouts in the world at the end of 1935 was 2,505,983, an increase over 1934 of 206,874.

Scouts in the British Empire showed an increase of 34,019, to a total of 939,203.

For Great Britain the figures showed: England, 366,763; Scotland, 56,874; Wales, 15,668; Ulster, 7,194; Irish Free State, 2,124.

Over 3,000 Scouts from all parts of South Africa gathered at East London, Cape Colony, to greet Lord Baden-Powell. This was the big event of the Chief Scout's present tour of Africa.

Twelve Toronto Rover Scouts, in smart Rover uniforms, acted as ushers at the opening of the Ontario Legislature. King's Scouts or Rovers have performed this function at Assembly openings for a number of years.

In a fire-making contest with the "ancient Indian" fire bow, Scoutmaster Goodwin of the First St. Anne de Bellevue Scout troop, Quebec, secured a flame in fifty seconds. This probably equalled the time required by good Indian fire-makers. The Scouts had made their fire sets of locally secured wood.

Again reflecting the rapid growth of the Scout movement in India, the province of Bombay reported a membership increase in 1935 of over 3,000.

The leader of an Australian Wolf Cub (junior Scout) pack announced to a group of small candidates that on next meeting night there would be an investiture. Shortly after the boys had raced home the cubmaster was called to the phone, and an agitated mother inquired, "What happened? Was Johnny concerned in it?" Johnny had announced an "investigation."

To help prevent children of Malden and Coombe Urban, England, from contracting measles, or to reduce the seriousness of the attack, Malden Rover Scouts who had had the disease contributed their blood for an inoculation campaign.

At the start of his present tour, Lord Baden-Powell attended a rally of 2,600 French Scouts and Guides at Marseilles. While there he paid a visit to the International Foyer of club hotels for foreign Scouts. This hostel, which includes two well appointed club rooms, has been in operation three years, and in that time has entertained 460 foreign Scouts in touring parties, and 150 Scouts traveling individually.

An Ulster employer has informed Boy Scout headquarters at Belfast that he always obtains his boys from Scout troops, and before settling them in their jobs consults their Scoutmasters as to the particular capabilities shown in their Scouting. According to the information received he plans to employ some boys in mechanical departments, others in the warehouse, others in the office. The method has given excellent results.

Display at Victoria High and Technical Centres Winds Up Term; High Standards Maintained by Students

Hundreds of visitors who thronged through Victoria High School and Boys' Central technical centres yesterday evening gave testimony to the increased interest being taken in the Victoria night school, conducted this year under George Broadner, supervisor.

Those who attended the display of work were adequately rewarded by the fine samples of artistic, utilitarian and practical scientific exhibits on view.

To indicate the proficiency attained by students of her class, Mrs. B. Uyeda, instructress in Japanese, displayed several copies of Japanese characters neatly illustrated with water colors.

In the leatherwork section, Mrs. Iva Othoff had on view several excellent samples of worked material, including figured leather purses, footstool covers, belts and buckles and small pocketbooks, while in her fashion drawing section she displayed work of students in cleverly done sketches of dresses, gowns and suits.

COMMERCIAL EXHIBIT
Among the more attractive features of the commercial exhibits were figures representing Japanese characters, Mickey Mouse, an old-fashioned tea, a rugby player and a map of North America all done by typewriter. Book-keeping, business letter, shorthand and general typing displays were included in the section for which J. E. Hamilton, K. Clark, A. B. McNeill, John Moulson, W. H. Gropp, Miss Olive Lynn and Miss M. Speed were instructresses.

Samples of work done in the applied mathematics class under Fred Butterfield aroused considerable interest in the male section of visitors. The displays included stress diagrams of calculations for roof trusses, of a specified propeller and a steam engine as well as civil engineering projects. Calculations for vibrations as well as contracted methods of mental arithmetic, originated by the instructor, actuarial calculations and applied calculus problems were also displayed.

ART WORK
In the more artistic sphere, the work of students of Arthur Checkley in elementary drawing claimed wide attention. In one room those pupils displayed charcoal light and shade work from cast and some monochrome oils. Landscapes, in water colors and oils, were on view in an adjoining classroom. The exhibits, of a high standard generally, were completed from sketches made by the summer class.

Under the direction of J. S. McMillan and Wm. Stancil the lettering and commercial class displayed bold and attractive poster work illustrating the various phases of instruction in their department. Lectures on the history of alphabetic forms and color were given during the sessions in that section.

FIGURE DRAWING
As usual, the figure drawing class of Will Menelaus attracted attention. The work, principally in charcoal, showed a very fair development in the presentation of heads, busts and figures. Inks were also on view. Various phases of building construction were shown in the architectural drawing class under Ralph Berrill, interiors, plans and elevations being neatly done.

Suits, frocks, afternoon and dinner dresses, lingerie and children's clothing featured the dressmaking exhibit under Mrs. L. Gibson. The work was well done and reflected credit on instructresses and students alike.

Different stages of pottery work were excellently represented in the colorful exhibits of that craft by students of M. Bridgman and Mrs. Grute. Unglazed pieces, those ready for first firing and second firing, as well as the finished product, tinted and glazed were on view. The more artistic specimens included a bird bath, bowls, vases, figures, candlesticks and trays. Many were designed with admirable taste.

GOOD CRAFTSMANSHIP
A high standard of craftsmanship was displayed in all sections of the technical classes at Boys' Central. Micrometer work, indicated by a well-constructed bearing part, an artistic lighthouse lamp, tools, hunting knives made from old files, clamps, wheels for a band saw and other metal work formed the excellent exhibit of the class under J. J. Rippon and A. D. Robertson.

Copper work, including a tea set, storm lantern, bowls and figured plaques by G. Anney's class drew its usual number of keenly interested visitors. Formed brass cooking utensils, metal tapset stands, trays and copper boxes added to the attractiveness of the display. On a special table, work of similar nature completed by women members of the class was shown.

Among the most outstanding pieces in another section were a big brass woodbox, neatly designed with a galleon front, and intricate fire screen with castings of copper in the form of a rampant lion.

A fine satin walnut sideboard and nicely finished and stained china cabinet featured the woodwork display under R. F. Goldfinch. Bases for fireless stoves, chairs and innumerable tables for library, living-room and other uses, showing different types of joints, completed the display.

WILL DISCUSS FIRE AGREEMENT

To discuss renewal of the fire protection agreement between the city and Oak Bay, the Oak Bay Council yesterday named a committee of three to confer with representatives of the city.

Councillors W. L. Woodhouse, R. Angus and W. Ellis were appointed, with Reeve R. R. Taylor acting as ex-officio member.

BILL EMPOWERS T.B. CENTRES

Victoria, Vancouver and Tranquille Are First Three Under New Plan

The provincial government will be empowered, under a bill introduced in the Legislature yesterday, to establish tuberculosis sanatoria and other institutions wherever it sees fit in the province.

This is part of the intensified drive against tuberculosis launched last year by Hon. G. M. Weil, Provincial Secretary.

The first three institutions under the scheme are the Tranquille Sanatorium, the Vancouver unit of the division of Tuberculosis Control and the Victoria unit. Municipalities must pay $1.25 a day for their patients in the institutions.

Legislation was introduced under which the government can check up closely on hospital finances and require that satisfactory medical certificates showing the need of any patient for hospital care be produced. This will assist Dr. Weil in investigations to stop alleged unnecessary over-hospitalization.

Provision is also made for the province to pay up to $2 a day toward the care of its own residents who are sick in public hospitals of other provinces and to make arrangements with other provincial governments to get similar remuneration for outside patients in British Columbia hospitals.

For years it has been claimed British Columbia has been paying the sickness bills of people from all over the Dominion who come to the coast for the mild climate. The new plan will enable the government to negotiate for a reciprocal arrangement on these costs.

MOVIE GROUP RESTS TODAY

Charles Starrett Gives Impressions of Cowichan District

After a stretch of work in the open, up-land and on the Saanich peninsula, the cast and staff of Central Films Limited, engaged in the production of "Secret Patrol," mounted police picture, yesterday took a rest and reviewed their experiences during four days in the Cowichan Lake-Duncan district.

If the weather permits, the company hopes to clear up the last outdoor scenes—those of the funeral of a mounted police officer with full ceremonial today or tomorrow.

Charles Starrett, leading man and hero of the picture has been getting better acquainted with the detachment from the Fifth B.C. Coast Brigade which will perform the ceremonial at the funeral. The detachment is made up of about forty picked gunners, who will wear mounted police uniforms.

In connection with the funeral, the property department of the company has been working on a set of grave-stones which will be temporarily erected at Beaver Lake while the scenes are being shot.

Mr. Starrett will command the guard of honor at the funeral. The Fifth Brigade bugler chosen for duty with the detachment is stated to be perfect on the Mounted Police version of the Last Post.

IMPRESSIONS OF ISLAND
"The Cowichan district is just what I had expected to see in Canada," Mr. Starrett said yesterday.

Mr. Starrett wants to go fishing on the Cowichan River and then continue up the island, visiting Quilcum, Cameron Lake and Sproat Lake, if time permits.

TRANSPORTATION BY CANOE
During the movie company's stay up the island he spent a good deal of time canoeing down the Cowichan River. While the rest of the company and its equipment moved from location to location by car and truck, the leading man and an Indian guide went by water.

At the McNeill logging camp, three miles from Cowichan Lake, Mr. Starrett watched trees being felled, and wondered at the loggers' agile use of the springboard.

Finia Barton, leading lady, wore a happy smile and a new pre-Easter bonnet in the lobby of the Dominion Hotel yesterday. She has got over all the after effects of an attack of rubella some weeks ago.

Grant MacDonald, Victoria photographer who has become still man with the movie company, has assumed a new job—that of traveling commissariat department. During the company's up-land visit he was to be seen bulging in all directions with cans of bully beef, packets of biscuits and even bottles of ketchup. He went so far as to purchase a small stove and provide hot food and drink for the cast while on location.

TELLS WORK OF FIRST GOVERNOR

The contributions made by Sir James Douglas to the cause of the British Empire were reviewed by E. A. McKelvie in an address to the Men's Guild of St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, yesterday evening.

Mr. McKelvie referred to Sir James's work in heading off a plot in 1852 to seize the Queen Charlotte Islands and turn them over to the United States, and the manner in which he financed the Territory of Washington in a defensive Indian war, as some of the outstanding incidents in his life.

CUT IN AUTO LICENSES URGED

Reduction in automobile license fees to a nominal figure and an increase in the gas tax to make up the difference in revenue was urged by E. Arnold Hanna, Liberal, Comox, in the Legislature yesterday when routine amendments to the Motor Vehicles Act were given second reading.

He said that in some cases today car owners paid more for their license than they did for their car. California and adjacent states had tried out the nominal fee plan and found it satisfactory. Cars should be based on the mileage of road they used, he argued.

Royalty Raise Again Deferred

Government Not to Increase Log Fees Next Year;
Marriage Bill Up

Increases in royalties on B.C. timber will be postponed another year by amendments to the Forest Act given second reading in the Legislature yesterday evening.

Heavier fees were to come into effect a few years ago but the government deferred doing so because of low log prices. This policy will be extended to the end of 1937.

A new section in the act will perpetuate existing thirty-year leases on wood-pulp by permitting the issue of eighteen-year leases from September this year.

Another change authorizes the Minister of Lands to close areas to travel where extreme fire hazard exists. The minister will also be authorized to give refunds out of the forest protection fund to private interests fighting fires to save timber.

After passing the health bill yesterday evening the House continued at 11:45 o'clock with routine legislation.

E. E. Winch, C.C.F., Burnaby, moved second reading of his bill which will require persons intending to marry to take medical examinations but there was no action because Dr. W. H. Sutherland adjourned debate. Mr. Winch said his proposal was mainly directed at preventing sterility through venereal diseases.

A bill which reduces barristers' license fees in small towns was approved. The Vancouver charter amendments were given second reading.

PILGRIMAGE TO ATTRACT MANY

FARMERS' BOARD MEETING URGED

Failure to hold a conference this season of the advisory board of Farmers' Institutes of British Columbia raised an argument in the agricultural committee of the Legislature yesterday.

E. T. Kenney, Liberal, Skeena, asked Hon. K. C. MacDonald to call the conference at least once a year and the minister explained that the meeting had been delayed until after marketing laws were clarified. He pointed out the Supreme Court had not yet ruled on the Natural Products Marketing Act. Some farmers, he said, liked to come to Victoria to enjoy themselves while the House is in session but it would be better for them to come when the House is not sitting and all the facilities of the agricultural department could be afforded them for their discussions.

Mr. Kenney said he did not like this attitude toward the farmers and felt there was no use in presenting resolutions which he had from the institutes. He walked out of the committee meeting.

CLUB EXCUSES ARE PARODIED

Rotary Committee Puts on Unusual Programme to Promote Attendance

Members of the Rotary Club yesterday sat back and saw their favorite excuses for absence from the club service committee to promote attendance.

Pat Malone, as master of ceremonies, explained the purpose of the programme, and Art Kerr, as master of ceremonies, called up each absentee in turn over a set of telephones installed at the tables. The absentees were: Alibi Ike, the Lunch Critic, Bill Doltitude, the Absent-minded Professor, Indifferent Pete and the Programme Critic.

Sam Armstrong, Frank Doherty, J. V. Johnson, A. J. Woodward and T. J. Goodlake portrayed the characters.

In between each phone call, Mr. Malone questioned members on the origin, constitution, aims, organization and extent of Rotary. Answers were given by Duncan MacBride, Jack Craig, W. H. Pinfold, J. R. Kingham, Tom Myers, Alec Glendale, John A. Taber and Dr. Vernon Taylor.

Tickets for the comedy "Tons of Money," to be presented at the Empire Theatre on April 21 and 22 by the Little Theatre Association in aid of the Rotary milk fund foundation, were distributed.

Lieut.-Colonel C. Junget was introduced as a new member of the club.

Nearly 100 Local Veterans Register for Trip to Vimy Ridge

Approximately 100 reservations for the Vimy Pilgrimage of the Canadian Legion B.E.L., to be conducted this summer, have been made at the local offices of the C.P.R. and C.N.R.

The closing date for registrations was set at March 14, but applications will still be taken by the steamship companies and placed on a "waiting list" in the event of cancellations, or suitable arrangements being made for the passage.

The total number of registrations received up to March 17 was 6,000. Every province in Canada has reached its quota in registrations and some far exceeding their number. Fathers, mothers, wives, children, brothers and sisters of veterans will make up the representative Canadian group. The pilgrims will embark at Montreal on July 15 and cross to either Havre or Antwerp.

Never in the history of Canada has a peacetime movement of this size left its shores to cross the Atlantic. Happening as it is at the time when the Dominion Government will unveil Canada's Memorial at Vimy Ridge, the whole movement has a national significance.

Land arrangements have been completed and they include proper rail and motor transportation facilities, hotel and billiard accommodations in France, Belgium and London.

AT THE MEMORIAL

Plans are now complete whereby all pilgrims will be accommodated in a specially reserved enclosure facing the Memorial on Vimy Ridge for the unveiling ceremony. The roads leading to the Ridge will be protected for the passage of the pilgrimage party, both going and coming.

Headed by trained leaders, a working staff will be on continuous duty for the guidance and comfort of all participating.

Passengers between the ages of ten and sixty years will be covered with an accident and health policy. The terms of this policy will appear in the guide book, which will be supplied each passenger when embarking on the ships.

Appropriate ceremonies will take place in the various cities and towns in France and Belgium, in which the pilgrims will be billeted or which will be visited officially.

CEMETERY VISITS

Over fifteen hundred are designated for cemetery visits. Pilgrimage headquarters has been instrumental in supplying information to a great number of inquiries as to the cemetery and grave locations of their relatives. Transportation to these cemeteries will be available.

Ben W. Allen, Dominion organizer, says: "Sponsoring a project of this nature is a tremendous responsibility for the Legion, but the reputation and prestige of our organization is such that all necessary co-operation has been obtained from governments, other ex-servicemen's organizations, both here and abroad and also the land and sea transportation corporations. We can, therefore, look forward with confidence to the success of the entire project."

Beatty Fears Radical Menace

Urges Best Men of Old Parties to Unite; Wootton Sees C.C.F. "Fairy Tales"

Collaboration of the best men of the two old parties to meet the present crisis and furnish constructive and sane government was proposed by James H. Beatty in an address before the Women's Conservative Association in the Campbell Building yesterday evening.

Mr. Beatty said that such action was necessary for the general welfare of the state and to ward off the "menace of certain radical political movements."

Regarding criticism of topheavy representation in the B.C. Legislature, Mr. Beatty declared that the existing proportion seemed to him quite sound and fair.

R. A. Wootton said the C.C.F. were only putting forward "fairy tales," which he said contrasted with the statesmanlike, sound, constructive, wise and practical policies of Mr. Bennett. Mr. Wootton said the Bennett government was defeated because of general world depressed conditions, and not because of its policies.

Pointing to the importance of the women's vote, Mr. Wootton said he noticed that in constituencies where Conservative members had been elected, there were strong Conservative women's organizations.

As for affairs in British Columbia, Mr. Wootton predicted there would be a general election within two years, and he said he could see the writing on the wall for this already. He said the Conservative convention next summer, when the party would be resurrected, would mark a milestone in British Columbia political history. He said the Liberals here would not last long.

Regarding the C.C.F., Mr. Wootton said it was merely a by-product of hard times and depression, its leaders were not informed men and lacked knowledge of economics and had no logical or co-ordinated policy. He contrasted the weakness of the

Would Protect Young Trees

Forestry Committee Backs Conservation Plan; Urges Wider Training Scheme

Extension of forest protection work to preserve the young stands of trees which will be the lumber supply of the future was strongly urged in the report of the forestry committee of the Legislature submitted to the House yesterday by Capt. C. S. Leary, Liberal, Kaslo-Slocan, the chairman.

The continuing and widening of the young men's forestry training plan launched last year was advocated. More intensive research work on timber problems was proposed, the suggestion being that the co-operation of the U.B.C. and the timber and pulp and paper industries be invited to this end.

Work of the Canadian Forestry Association was praised with the suggestion that all educational and publicity work on forestry be co-ordinated under the forest branch.

Young People Need Training Says Good Taste Is Essential In Life

ONE OF THE THINGS that young people of today are most rabid about is the conventions of society. The most damning criticism that they can make of any one is to say that he or she is conventional. They never feel so superior and hellish as when they are breaking conventions. The secret desire of their souls is to go off to some place where they can lead an unconventional life.

They ignore the fact that conventions are the bulwark of civilization and that they alone make it possible for people to live together in peace and harmony in an overcrowded world. Conventions are the unwritten law about what can be done and the things that are not done, and are far more potent in restraining the evil passions of mankind than any edict ever issued by a court.

No doubt conventions do cramp the style of those who are too lazy to keep themselves clean and who go about unshaven and unshorn in soiled linen and grease-spotted clothes, who prefer to sponge on others rather than to work, and who consider that they have a perfect right to make whoopee and wake up a whole neighborhood when they come rolling in with the milkman in the morning.

They are contemptuous of the young man who is particular about his personal appearance, who is punctilious in his manners and who religiously conforms to the canons of good society. But if you will notice you will see that, nine times out of ten, it is the conventional youth who gets to the top of the ladder, while the unconventional one stays at the bottom. It takes genius of the first order to offset unconventionality.

A lot of girls are misguided enough to think that it makes them distinctive and alluring, to pose as being unconventional. They wear sloppy clothes and go in for shorts and nakedness generally. They get drunk, smoke like chimneys, tell off-colored stories and frequent the most disreputable places to which they can possibly go. But it gets them nothing but bedraggled reputations and being dropped by worthwhile people.

Very often a romantic girl is lured into an unconventional relationship with some man who tells her that marriage is an outmoded institution and that the only thing that binds a man and woman to each other is love. It sounds beautiful, but when other women draw their skirts away from her and men feel free to insult her, and especially when her love nest falls to pieces and her temporary mate flies away, how she wishes that she had the respectability and the protection that only the conventional marriage gives.

In everyday life there are no people who are so pleasant to live with as conventional people and none are such pests as the unconventional. The only friends in whom you can take any real satisfaction are those on whom you can rely always to do the proper thing on the proper occasion.

No matter how fond you are of each other there is always a certain formality in your relationship. They listen with sympathy to whatever you tell them of your private affairs, but they never pry into them and ask embarrassing questions. Hence you are never led into telling them things you will hate them later for knowing. They are never backdoor neighbors who pop in at inopportune times and who spy upon every detail of your family life, and who bore you to tears with their incessant visiting. They never consider that they have a right to pick out your friends for you and to make you join their own clubs and patronize their doctor and dentist, and go to their church.

When you invite them to a party you know that they will come suitably dressed, and that they will make themselves agreeable to the other guests and try to make the occasion a success. If you write them a letter they will answer it. If you send them a present, they will acknowledge it. If you are sick they will send you flowers or a book, or come to see you.

But the unconventional know no such fine reserves. They make your house a free hotel and drop in on you without warning, when the children are down with the measles and the cook has left and you are ready to die of exhaustion. They borrow your automobile and bring it back a wreck. They never return a book.

They ruin your pretty dinner by coming in overalls and getting into a hot dispute with your guest of honor. They never write letters of thanks and after they have enjoyed your hospitality for weeks the only way you know that they have got home safely is because you haven't read of any railroad wrecks in the newspapers.

Somebody has said that convention is the accumulated good taste of the best people of all ages. That's true. Would that there were more of it. Especially among the young. DOROTHY DIX. (Copyright, 1936.)

Uncle Wiggily and Kittie's Kite

By HOWARD E. GARIS

March is the month of the wind, you know. The winds of March, in this part of the world where we live, are supposed to be warm and gentle. They are supposed to blow cold winter away and blow warm spring and summer to us.

That's why, one day, they took their toys made of paper, sticks and string and went out to fly their kites. It was a fine, windy day.

"May I come with you?" mewed Kittie Kat, who was of course, no relative of the bad Bob Cat. Kittie was a little pussy cat. The Bob Cat was a bad Cat. Kittie was trying to catch Uncle Wiggily. Besides, Kittie Kat spelled both her names with capital K letters, as you can see if you look.

"CAN'T COME WITH US," said "No, you can't come with us," said Tommie. "You'd only be in the way and get all tangled in the string." "That's right," said Tommie. "Girls can't fly kites." "They can't," mewed Kittie. "I'll show you I can fly a kite as good as you boys can and better."

"Ha! Ha!" laughed Tommie and Jole as they ran out in the March wind to fly their kites.

Poor Kittie felt sad and lonesome, but she knew what she was going to do. She had seen Tommie and Jole making their kites.

"Maybe I don't know how to make a kite like boy cats," mewed Kittie. "But I can buy one already made in the store and I'm going to and I'll fly it myself."

Kittie had some pennies saved up in a little tin bank. After shaking it up and down a number of times she managed to coax enough pennies out to buy a ready-made kite in the toy store.

The old gentleman who kept the store showed her how to put it together and fasten on the string. It was a kind of kite that didn't need a tail.

Kittie Kat knew where her brothers always went to fly their kites—on top of a hill not far from Uncle Wiggily's bungalow. Hitting there with her tail in the air, the little pussy cat saw that Tommie and Jole had their kites up. The boy pulled hard on the strings.

Kittie had watched her brothers fly their kites enough to know how they got them up in the air and she soon had hers flying high. She let out a lot of cord and then Jole and Tommie saw her.

"Where'd you get the kite?" asked Jole.

"LIFTED INTO AIR," mewed Kittie, sort of teasing like as she had a right to do. But just then the wind blew very hard and Jole and Tommie wound their kite-cords around heavy stones on the ground to hold them from getting away. But Kittie didn't know enough to do this and when the wind blew so hard the string tangled around her legs and the kite lifted her right up in the air.

"Oh! Oh! Tommie! Jole! Save me!" cried the little pussy cat.

"Where'd you get the kite?" asked Tommie.

Indeed Kittie might have been blown a long way off. But just then along came Uncle Wiggily. He had his umbrella with the broken handle. He reached up, caught the umbrella, hook around Kittie's tail and pulled her and the kite down just in

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel"

SATURDAY, MARCH 28, 1936

Adverse planetary aspects appear to dominate strongly today, according to astrology. It is a time for caution and patient waiting for guidance in important enterprises.

Warning is given that many efforts to decide will be encountered under this rule. Secrecy and intrigue in small as well as great affairs are to be expected under this rule of misfortune.

Agriculturists may be difficult to deal with today for they come under a sign breeding suspicion and a sense of injustice. However, they are to benefit as the year advances.

This is not an auspicious rule under which to launch any project and the wins will keep their plans secret for double-dealing may be widespread.

Emphasis is put upon the importance of guarding one's conversation. Gossip, slander and misrepresentation will be due to the impulse of envy and jealousy.

Women's organizations may reflect the unfavorable planetary influences, and should be careful to avoid personal quarrels. Much treachery is forecast among persons in all walks of life.

The evening is fortunate for those who discuss constructive plans. Philanthropies and welfare agencies are aided by this configuration.

Girls are advised to provide practical as well as party clothes for the summer, which is to bring much excitement and many interesting events in which youth will be prominent.

Persons whose birthdays it is have the augury of a year of some dangers through deception. They should be extraordinarily careful of money and property.

Children born on this day probably will be clever in money matters, serious in nature and able to win what they think is worth while.

Herbert H. Griggs, banker, was born on this day, 1855. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include Henry Ross Scholcraft, ethnologist, 1793, and William Allan Nelson, educator, 1889. (Copyright, McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

FIVE DIE IN PLANE CRASH

Forest in Hampshire, England, Scene of Fatal Airplane Mishap

Lyndhurst, Hampshire, England, March 27.—A pilot indirectly connected with the newly-launched drive to co-ordinate defence resources of the United Kingdom took five lives when an airplane crashed near here yesterday evening.

The machine was engaged in army co-operation work, and was giving searchlight units practice in locating aircraft during night flying. The disaster was believed due to static disturbances. Other pilots operating in the vicinity reported severe atmospheric conditions.

The victims were Capt. Francis Joseph Birmingham of Adair House, King's Road, Sheerness, the pilot; his brother, Brandon Birmingham of Glenageary Road, Stratham, London; Robert Frederick Burgess of Crofton; Miss Daisy Marsh of Penenden Road, West Crofton; and Norman Tyrell Burton of Norwood Road, London.

Capt. Birmingham was an experienced pilot, employed by Commercial Air Hire, owners of the plane, for some time. His brother Brandon and Burgess, the wireless operator, had had many years' flying experience. The crash occurred in the forest at Stony Cross, about three-quarters of a mile from the main road at Minstead.

There were no witnesses to the accident. A policeman heard the crash and raised an alarm. All five occupants of the plane were dead when the rescue party arrived.

CUT THIS OUT

EXCELLENT REMEDY FOR CATARRH, CATARRH, DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you know of some one who is troubled with Catarrh, Deafness, head noises or ordinary catarrh cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer from total deafness.

Scientists for a long time past have recognized that catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily requires constitutional treatment.

Sprays, inhalers and nose douches are able to irritate the delicate membrane and force the disease into the middle ear, which frequently means total deafness, or else the disease may be driven down the air passages towards the lungs, which is equally as dangerous. The following formula, which is used extensively in a constitutional treatment and should prove especially efficacious to sufferers.

Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Parmit (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it 4 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar, stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from distressing head noises. Closed nostrils should open, breathing become easy and hearing improve as the inflammation in the eustachian tubes is reduced. Parmit used in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and has a tonic action that helps to obtain the desired results. The preparation is safe, costs little and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh or head noises or is in need of hearing should give this treatment a trial.
